Don't fear
the snap!
the snap!

We are the generation of growth, the generation of change. We were born under the shadow of a captured atom, and have watched it mature into a Janus of service or devastation. We accepted Elvis as the king of rock n' roll, and dethroned him for a mop haired British quartet. Our wide children's eyes watched as jets soared over our homes; now we listen for news of manned space capsules travelling through an unexplored universe. We learned to waltz in Cotillion class, and gave it up for the mad gyrations of the Go-Go set. We are no strangers to good nor evil, we know the Peace Corps and we know Selma, Alabama; we know Albert Schweitzer and we remember President Kennedy. We are high-spirited and fun loving with our rolls of lavender toilet paper; we are serious and thoughtful with the responsibility of preserving a nation . . . we are the young rebels, the balloon-breakers. The '65 PALM ECHO is a mirror reflecting one year at one school in one city. Yet it holds memories and reminders of all the elements that made us what we are. Keep it to help you remember, for this too shall pass away . . . because we are the growing people; the changing people. . .

A Memorable Homecoming

Reflection of Youth

Palmetto students enjoyed being young. They enjoyed creative moments as when Howard Cubberly, (far right), designed a batik. And there were moments when the energy and vitality of youth, (above), exerted itself. When they wanted, the students could organize themselves and work together for a common goal. The Band Jamboree with its candy apples, (right), rides and games became the band's means to the Cherry Blossom Festival.

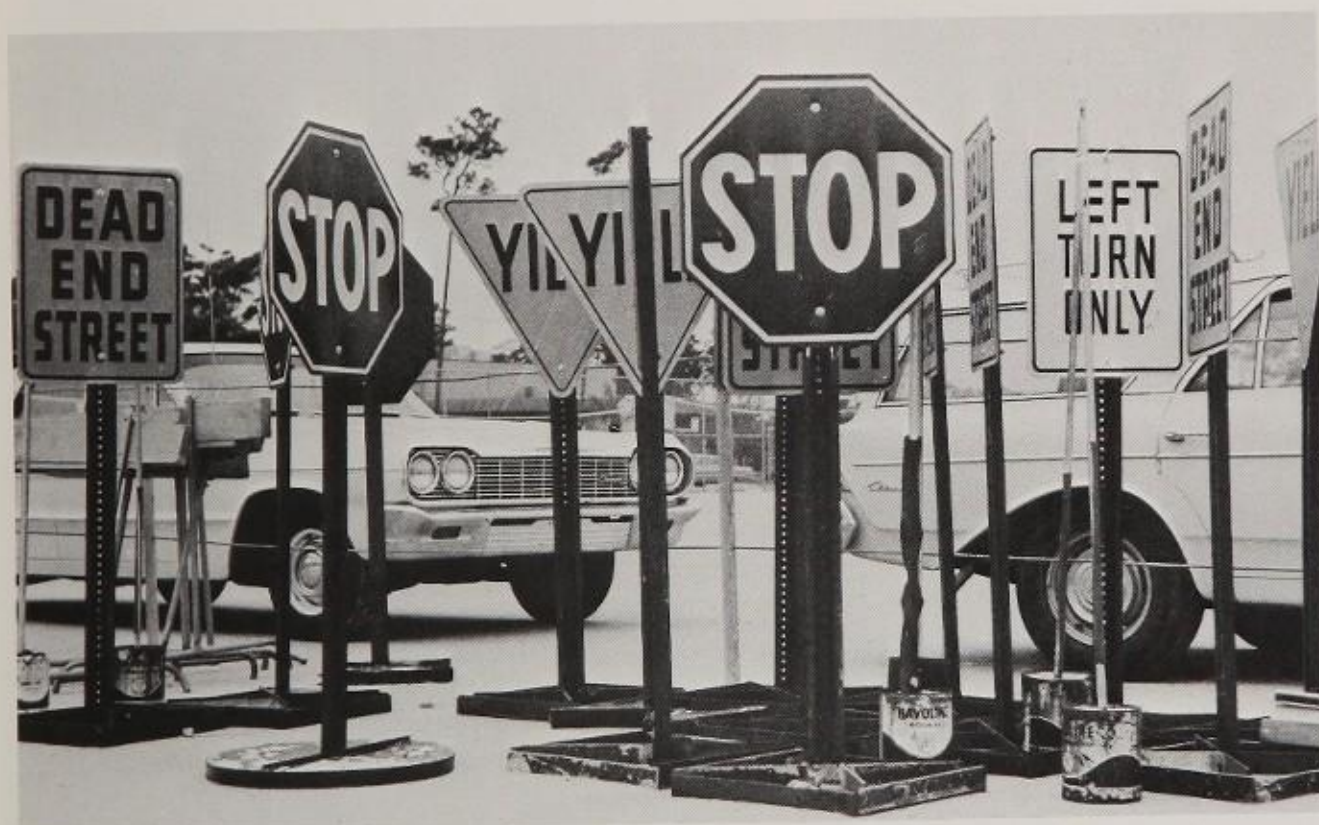

The twirling form of a solitary dancer, (upper left, inside), or Jeff Fenster's note passing were evidence of this generation's high spirits. Marikay McCarty, (lower left, far), celebrated French style at a La Societe Francaise reception. Club meetings and football games, (lower left, inside), were all PHS, (upper right). The signs, (lower right), of life were often as confusing as the maze of belongings, (upper left), piled outside school.

Go-Go Set

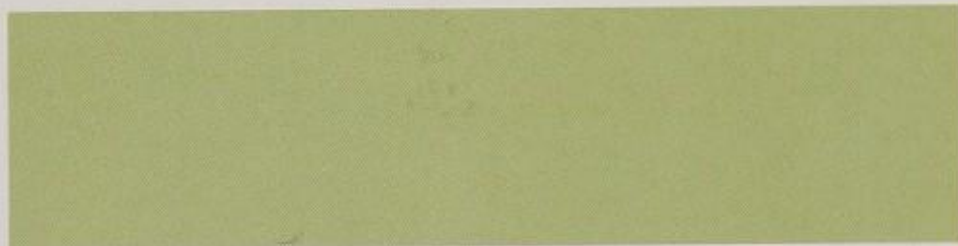

The Era 'a Go-Go began with the "Hitchhiker" and evolved, (above, left), into a flowing jerky movement designed for 1965's teenager. Studying wasn't forgotten, whether it was by yourself, or with someone special like Gail Feuerbach and Dwight Stone, (below, left). It was still the grind and the cramming. And will we ever forget surfing at South Beach, (below)? Cries of "surf's up" sent swarms of kids to the waves.

Crabtree Leads Palmetto High Throughout Year of Expansion

Principal Clyde Crabtree

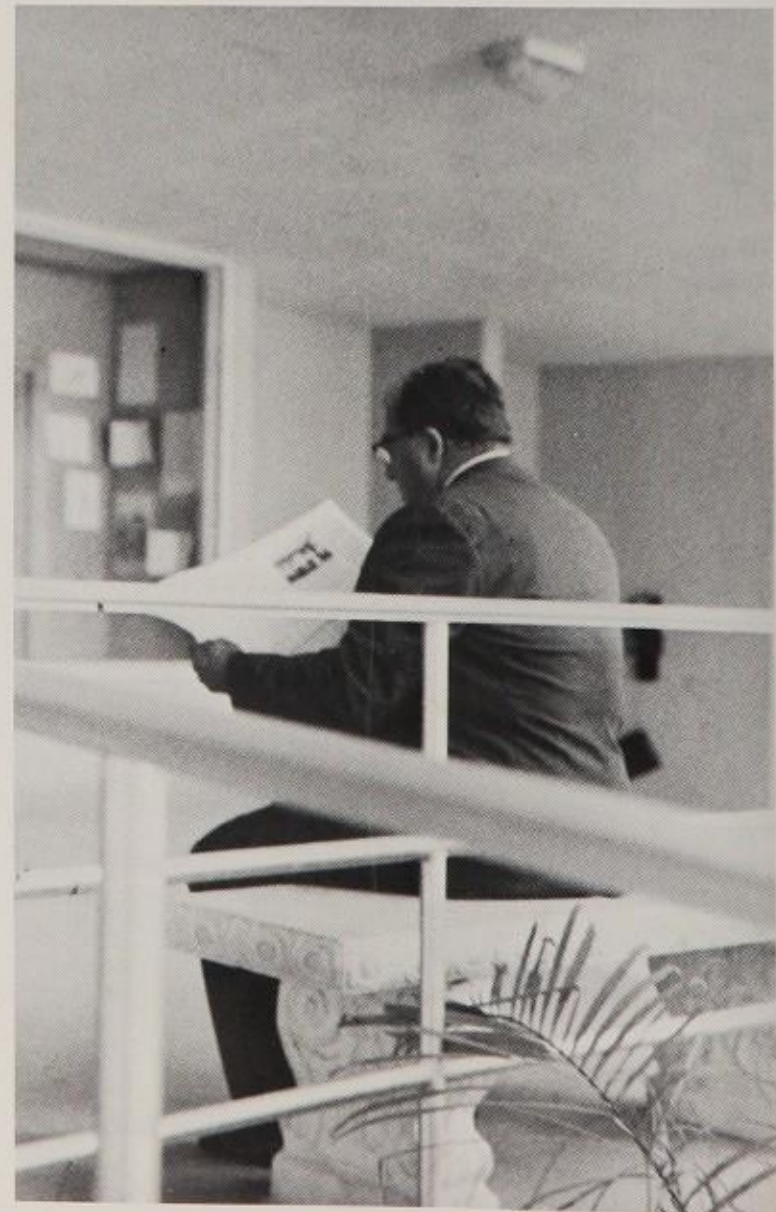

This year, under the direction of Principal Clyde Crabtree, Palmetto Senior High School has expanded in every phase of school life, in every department of study, in enrollment and in physical size. The addition of several new teachers pushed the number of faculty members over the one hundred mark and after the graduation of nine hundred seniors from the Class of '64, PHS welcomed over one thousand sophomores from four junior high schools in the area.

Looking forward to the even greater number of students that will be enrolled at Palmetto next year, Principal Crabtree initiated a new system for students traveling through the halls during class. Also in preparation for the increase of student population, and a triple shift operation for each class, students were restricted from admission to several halls before school.

The building of the new main office and the enlarged library facilities changed the physical appearance of Palmetto and left Principal Crabtree with the problem of finding sufficient space for the clerical office staffs and the guidance counselors until the construction was completed. Using the guidance counselors' old offices, the teachers' lounge and the student activities room, the administration took care of all registration and the transferring of classes that occurs during the first few months of school.

Mr. Crabtree addressed the first student council meeting, briefing them on the council's agenda and expectations for the school year.

Relaxing for a few moments during classes, Mr. Crabtree read the special Brotherhood edition of the paper, the Palmetto Panther.

Guidance and Office Assistants Aided Administration, Students

The Guidance Department at Palmetto was completely rearranged in the newly renovated office building. Every counselor now has a private office for individual student conferences, which provided a quieter and a more relaxed atmosphere than the previous arrangements.

Addition of two new tenth grade counselors, Mr. Steve Blane and Mr. Norman Brennis, enabled the sophomore counselors to handle the class more efficiently. Miss Jane Everitt, an addition to the junior counseling staff, greatly aided Mr. Mullins and Mr. Taylor in coping with the problems of the class of '66. This year the counselors informed juniors of the many scholarship opportunities which would be available to them as seniors.

Senior counselors, Mrs. Glenda Hubbard and Mrs. Catherine Purves aided students in making a final college choice, or in deciding on their vocational plans. Assisting the guidance counselors were Mrs. Graefe, Mrs. Leard, Mrs. Ewald, and Mrs. Bennett. Miss Carole Baltian handled all college correspondence.

Other secretaries in the main office included Mrs. Myrna Forman, and Mrs. Helen Buck, PBX operator. Mrs. Lillian Boerger assisted Mr. Rice as a TV aide. Mrs. Ruth O'Hare, school treasurer, completed the staff who kept Palmetto running efficiently all through the school year.

Miss Jane Everett, one of the new junior counselors, looked over the records of a junior who had transferred from another school.

English Department Emphasized Expression Through Creativity

New to the Language Arts Department this year was a program of tenth grade T.V. English which focused on the study of types of literature. The course provided for two days each week for large group instruction and two days for regular classroom work, alternating on Wednesdays.

Three themes paralleling the growth of America made up the first half of the eleventh grade course, the Dream of Freedom, the Dream of the Land, and the Hope of the City. Other themes centered on Man and Society. Juniors studied Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" and read the novels Huckleberry Finn by Mark Twain, My Antonia by Willa Cather, and April Morning by Howard Fast.

Seniors delved into the development of English literature. Shakespeare's "Macbeth" and "Hamlet" and Shaw's "Pygmalion" added interest to the course. Honor classes at each grade level helped teachers adjust the curriculum to provide assistance for the emotional and intellectual needs of students.

Electives offered to students out of the department included debate, drama, speech, journalism, and world literature. Heading the Language Arts Department for the second year was Mr. Harry Warren.

English Teacher Mrs. Harriet Stokes took the time to go over a test with one of her many eleventh grade English students.

Mrs. Lillian Tysinger's junior English class discussed one of the many novels studied throughout this year. The students gained knowledge and understanding of such books as Huck Finn.

Mr. Alfonso Alonso, Spanish three and four teacher, made final adjustments on his daily tape. Mr. Alonso had one of the most advanced recording equipment set-ups in Dade County area.

Mrs. Elena Pedrosa directed her classes in a response drill, one of the exercises used in the Spanish audio-lingual program.

Spanish teacher Mrs. Natalie DeBerly found that tapes and phonograph records were a great asset to her in keeping track of the speaking and comprehension progress of students.

Language Department Enlarged Curriculum By Adding Russian

The Foreign Language Department, headed by Mrs. June Kundtz, offered five different languages. These offerings included Spanish, French, German, Russian and Latin; also two classes in Mythology are offered by the department. In conjunction with the audio-lingual method of teaching the modern languages, there are four language laboratories.

The department is well staffed in regard to both background and training of the personnel. Several of the instructors are teaching their native language, while others have either traveled or studied in the country of the language which they teach. Still others have attended foreign language institutes in preparation for teaching the audio-lingual method. One member of the department, Mrs. Mary Denger, is presently serving on the French Listening Comprehension Section of the College Entrance Examination Board.

Students participated actively in the Spanish, French, German, and Latin clubs and honor societies. The annual Mardi Gras, usually sponsored by the French Club was replaced this year by the Band Association's three day "Jamboree." Many students participated in the advanced placement program.

Palmetto's Library Expanded Book Festival Marked Opening

The Book Festival, April 26-30, opened PHS's new library. Every student participated in the Festival by buying the library a book through his homeroom. Cultural night hosted speakers from all phases of the arts.

It was once said that libraries are not made, they grow. Ours has grown into a fully air-conditioned wall-to-wall carpeted PHS library. It has grown with the help of the Dade County School Board, Mrs. Jemmie Batchellor, head librarian, and the parents of the community.

The libraries role in the school curriculum, primarily was to have a concerted and school-wide approach to the teaching of the library and learning skills, one that involved all the library staff and all teachers in all curriculum areas.

An introductory unit of Great Books of the Western World and the use of the Syntopicon is given to all seniors. This set of books is useful in the preparation of term papers.

The new library provided needed study space and private conference rooms. Seating capacity in the new library was 300 students, with book space for 30,000 volumes.

Libraries mean much to America's intellectual well being. For young people, a good library is truly a storehouse of knowledge.

Until the completion of the new spacious modern library, teachers patiently used the small crowded work room in the old library during their free periods.

A. Goff

N. Swinney

THE OLD LIBRARY WAS USUALLY CROWDED AND DIDN'T PROVIDE ADEQUATE WORKING SPACE.

THE SPACIOUS NEW LIBRARY OFFERED THE FACILITIES FOR EFFECTIVE STUDYING.

The new library housed a larger card catalog. With the amount of shelves, new books were acquired.

Library personnel found it difficult to fill the open stacks. But with homerooms who bought books during the Book Festival, the shelves didn't look so empty.

The study carrels in the new library provided a quiet place for students to spread out their books and work comfortably.

Many times Chem Study students found themselves engrossed in The Crucibles which was required study for several classes.

Mr. Errol Seegers, Biology teacher, remained busy throughout the year grading the many notebooks, tests and extra credit reports handed in by his students.

Miss Janice Wayne showed a student how the fundamentals of chemistry can apply to Biology especially in study of the body.

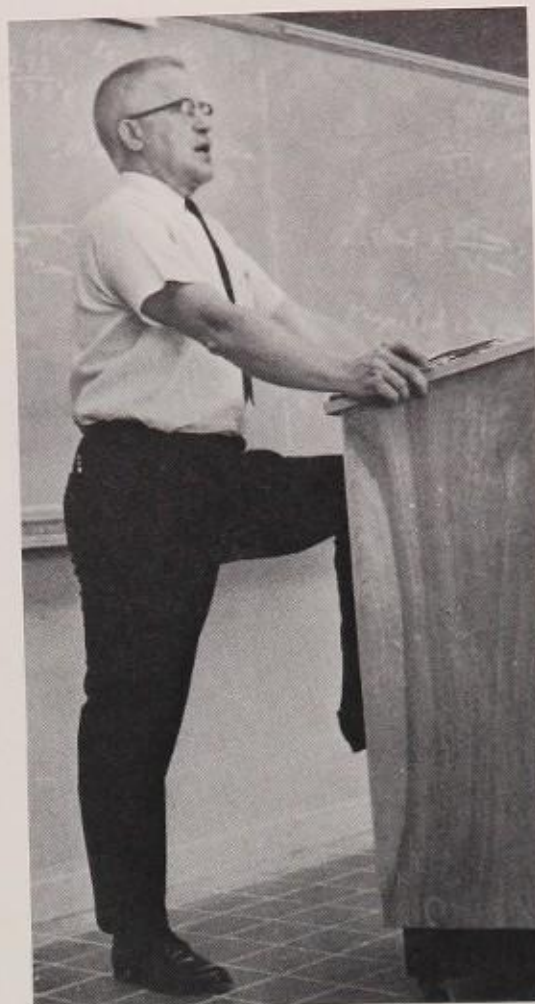

Science Classes Offered New Areas for Study to Students

A new laboratory-centered course was initiated at Palmetto High this year as a new approach to teaching BSCS Biology. All students were enrolled in the BSCS program in one of three classes: regular, reading or honors. The material in the textbook was explained and handled by the television teacher and the laboratory investigation was supervised by the classroom teachers.

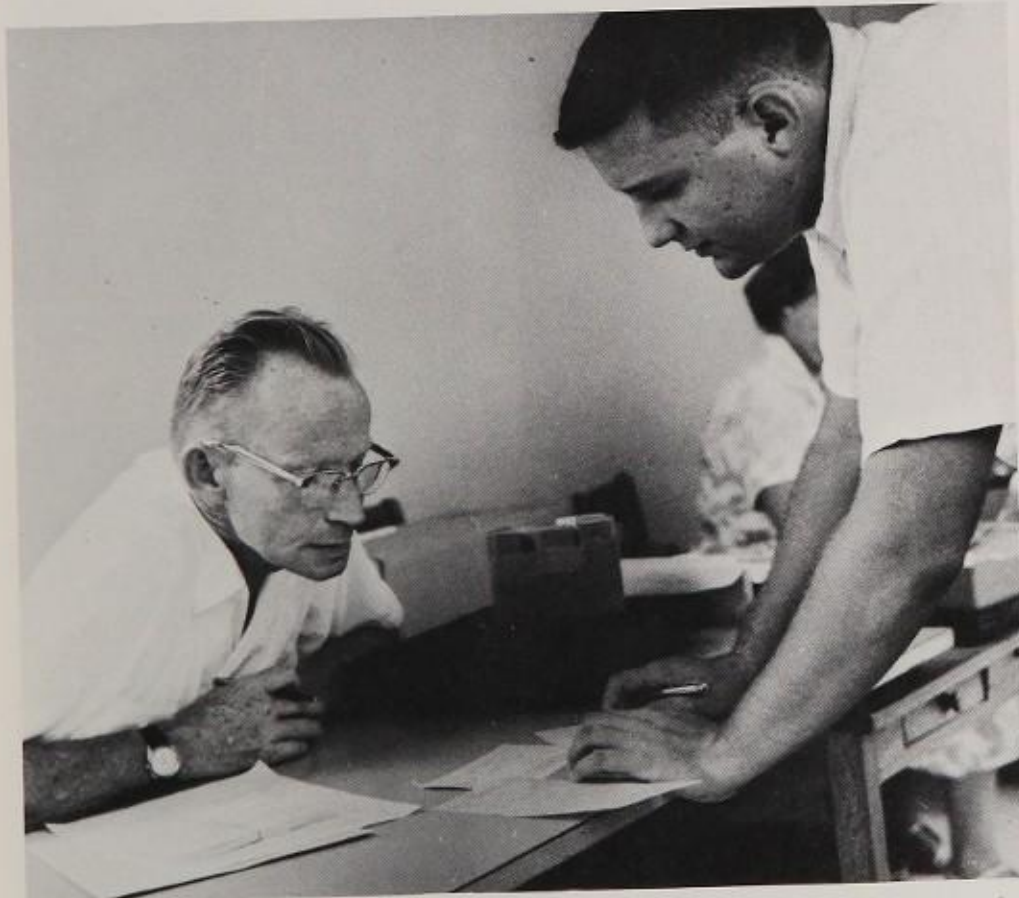

An advanced biology class was offered for the superior students who were capable of constructive and original thinking. These students were challenged by the difficult problems and used many different and modern methods of problem solving. The advanced biology was supervised by Mr. Foster Smith.

Chemistry, Chem Study and Honors Chemistry were also offered at Palmetto. College-bound students were urged to take the Chem Study course. Honors Chemistry, with a more rigorous curriculum, is designed for selected, high ability students. Chemistry classes were all enriched by the many different materials and supplies that the science department had.

PSSC Physics was offered to all students, and an honors program for the academically talented was part of the program. In addition to the special class, Mr. Robert Sanderson held Physics classes after school for students that had signed up for the CEEB Physics Achievement Test.

Mr. Vincent Vestguard explained absolute temperature scale systems to a science class.

Mr. Robert Sanderson, physics teacher, explained to a student how to fill out a fee slip. School clerks needed teachers' assistance in the yearly job of fee collecting.

Math Provided Students With Analytical Look at the World

Palmetto Senior High's math department provided students with one of the most varied programs on a high school level. Classes ranged from basic math I to college calculus. A new course, intermediate algebra was added this year, and plans were made for a math five course for next year which will include logic, probability and statistics. Other courses included algebra I, geometry and algebra II. A combined junior and senior class participated in a special math analysis course. Math analysis covered small amounts of trigonometry, symbolic logic, modern algebra, analytic geometry and elementary functions.

Students from honors classes, math analysis, calculus and other selected pupils participated in the National Math Contest given in the school cafeteria during the first week in March. The students with the top three scores were recognized as the winners and were placed in the national finals. Industrial and business firms used the results of these tests to award scholarships and grants. Calculus students participated in a calculus advanced placement test early in May. Colleges and universities around the country honored students who scored a three or better out of a possible five points with college credits and advanced placement. The math department encouraged entries in the South Florida Science Fair. Mathematical research papers were also entered from Palmetto.

Mrs. Virginia Terry, math department head, gave Marlene Dow extra help in an after school program for pupils who needed added assistance.

Mrs. Carla Harvey, drama instructor, gave directions to the cast of Senior Stunt Night during final stages of rehearsal.

MR. D. WILLOUGHBY LOOKED OVER NEW MUSIC IN PREPARATION FOR PRESENTATION TO THE CHORUSES.

Creative Arts Contributed To PHS Students' Cultural Interests

The Creative Arts subjects, consisting of band, drama, journalism, chorus, and art instilled creativity in their students and endeavored to provide an interest in the cultural side of life.

The music curriculum has been designed to create an appreciation for all periods of music from baroque through performance of music.

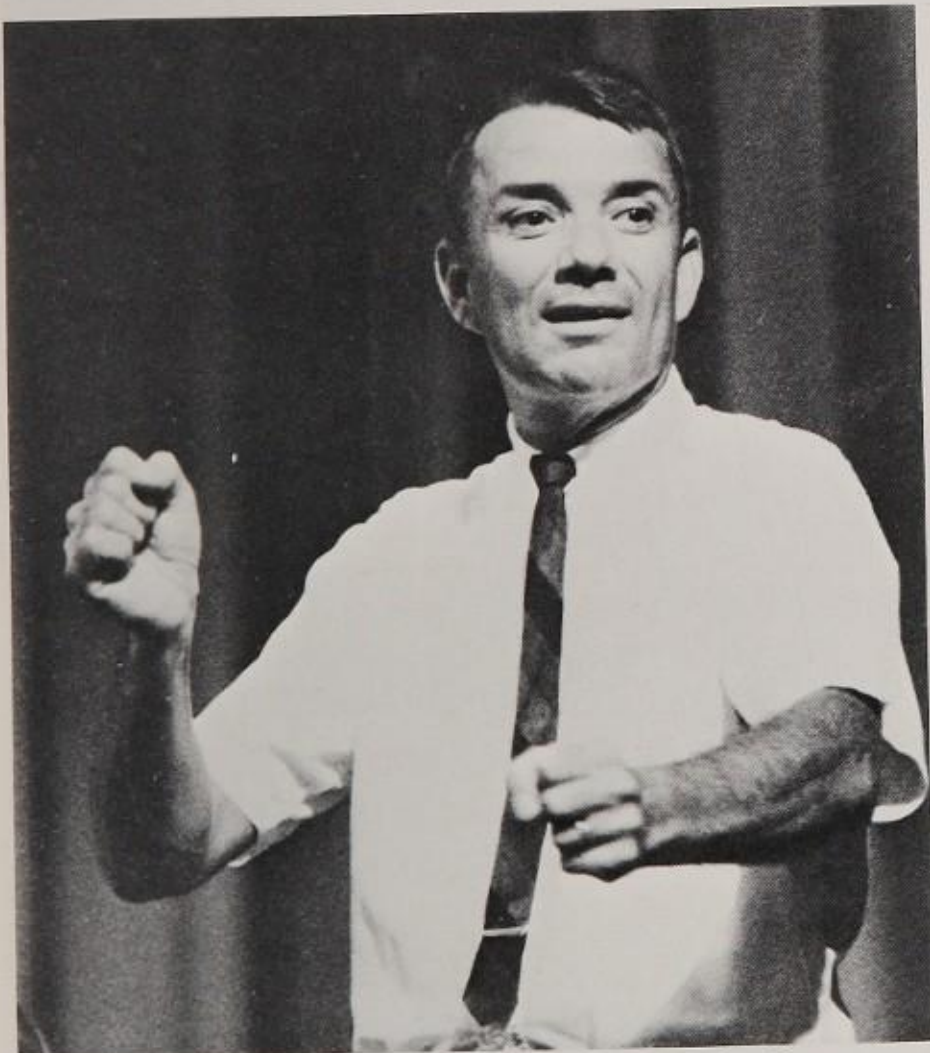

The performing organizations, Concert Choir, Girl's Chorus, Mixed Chorus, Concert Band, Singing Men, Double Quintet, Triple Trio, and Marching Band presented to both students and the community programs of music education through listening.

Under the direction of Mrs. Carla Harvey, students acted in three major productions this year. "The Importance of Being Earnest," a comedy by Oscar Wilde, was the third Annual Thespian Play presentation. This was followed by the Senior Class Play, "The Madwoman of Chailott," and a night time presentation of one act plays produced during the last six weeks.

Art at Palmetto is concerned with the dual relationship which the student has and will have with art: that of creator and that of spectator. Each aspect requires refinement and nurturing of aesthetic sensitivity.

Mrs. Marlene Lindquist, the head of Palmetto's Art Department, planned a semester filled with many activities for her classes.

Social Studies Classes Kept Pace with All Current Events

Palmetto's Social Studies department, headed by Mr. Earl Orme, expanded greatly during the school year. With the addition of several new courses and teachers, the department strove for one of the most up to date programs in the entire Dade County area, with successful results.

Only one television class, for juniors taking American History, was conducted. The rest of the classes, including twelfth grade Government-Economics and Psychology-Sociology, were all individual classroom courses.

Materials from the Audio Visual department and the library aided the Social Studies department throughout the year. Documentaries about different countries and the rise and fall of governments the world over were a few of the subjects presented.

Current events were a weekly part of every social studies class. A ruling of the Board of Public Instruction stated that every course in the department must devote one full period each week to review and discuss news on a local, state, national and international level. Individual reports and panel discussions by students using daily newspaper and magazines added to the success of the program. During the early part of the year, the national election was often the main topic of discussion.

Business Department Employed Many New Teaching Methods

At Palmetto, business education is considered as both general education and vocational education. There are many course offerings in the general field available and helpful to all students, both college bound and terminal. Advanced course work was also offered to the vocational student.

During the second semester the department moved into air-conditioned quarters in the new wing. The building was filled with new teaching innovations. This move gave the Business Ed. department a chance to expand and to include the courses that they felt necessary to run a complete and thorough program.

This year the office practice course was conducted as an independent study program in which each student completed 21 units covering all phases of office work. Consideration is under way regarding the addition of new units of independent study to better prepare the student for job opportunities in today's highly accelerated and competitive business world.

In cooperation with the effort being made to keep pupils in school, PHS has a Cooperative Business Education program which allowed the student to complete his high school education by attending school one-half day and working one-half day. It is anticipated, before too long, that a Distributive Education program will be added to the curriculum.

Mrs. Bernice Cunningham, business education instructor and head of the department, searched for a test in her classroom files.

Home Economics and Industrial Arts Gave Vocational Training

Mrs. Smith inspected the many blouses that were sewn by students in her home economics classes. The blouses were a semester skills project.

Two sewing labs, one food lab and a living and dining area made up Palmetto's Home Economics Department. With the help of Mrs. Jean Zook and Mrs. Eugenia Smith the girls got a practical and applicable training in all phases of Home Economics for their future homes.

Besides the regular sewing and cooking classes, the department added to its curriculum a course in Modern Family Living. It was a full year subject and was open to seniors only. In a series of units the class covered, the Family and Society, Personality Development, Dating and Courtship, Marriage, Foods, and Finance with detail and perceptive interest.

With a definite eye toward industrial training, Palmetto's Industrial Arts Program concentrated its program in five major areas of study. These areas follow a sequence of three years of study.

Mr. Phillip Braden, a commercial architect, assisted Mr. Bonnie Yarbrough in Palmetto's special architectural drafting course. Almost completely separated from the rest of the department, this class attempts to give students an understanding of the underlying principles in architecture. It encourages the development of special skills in the architectural field. This special course is a pilot experiment for Dade County schools.

Phys. Ed. Department Sported New Physical Fitness Program

The Physical Education department expanded this year with new facilities available for students. In each class, ability groupings (basic, general, accelerated) were introduced to provide a suitable rate of advancement and placement for every student.

The basketball courts were rearranged to make room for tennis a sport pioneered at Palmetto this year. In addition to this, chinning bars were installed on the courts. A six-week period was devoted to trampoline instruction in both girls' and boys' phys. ed. classes. A special requirement made physical education a mandatory subject for all juniors, however, girls were given the opportunity to choose between regular p.e. or modern dance. These special dance classes were further divided into beginning and advanced categories.

The sophomore boys' volleyball team took honors this year by becoming the runner-up in the county-wide competition. Both "A" and "B" girls' basketball teams won the Southern Division Championship in February.

The Physical Education coaches sponsored and guided all of the after school intramural sports. Deck tennis and track teams for the girls and golf and wrestling for the boys made up a large part of the post class schedule. Students supported this program with interest and enthusiasm.

ACTIVITIES

THE AUDITORIUM ECHOED AS SIXTY SENIORS SANG THEIR OPENING NUMBER, "HELLO SENIORS", FROM THE NEW BROADWAY HIT.

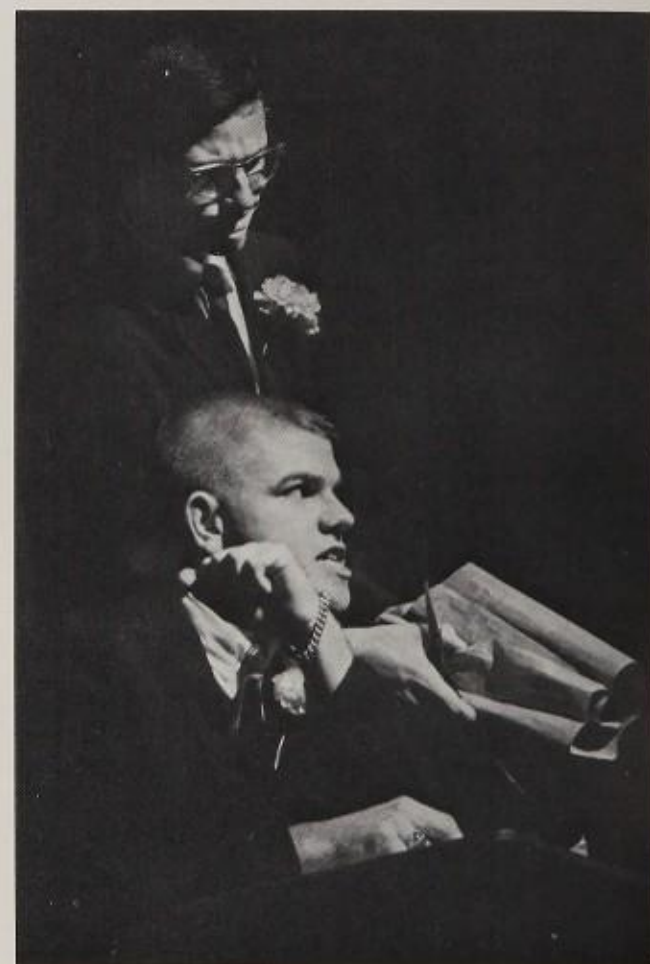

Out of Stunt Night Controversy Grew Senior Skit Entertainment

"Hello Seniors, well hello Seniors. It's so nice to have you here in '65 . . ." On October 15 the Senior Class presented its annual Stunt Night under the direction of Mrs. Harvey, Mr. Warren, and Mr. Glazer.

"You're looking well Seniors, doing swell Seniors. . ." As always the show was a big success and provided delightful entertainment for sophomores and juniors. But the audience only saw half the fun. Backstage there was an atmosphere of excitement as the groups waited to perform.

"You've got spirit, you're the greatest class there is alive. . ." The spirit and drive of '65 was shown in the singing of the theme song, "Hello Seniors." Masters of ceremonies Cal Kellogg and Steve Becker introduced such skits as "The Palmetto Repertory Theater," "The Long Tall Texan," and "West Side Story."

"You've got the band playing, got the crowd swaying, all the Panther cheers of great Palmetto High. . ." The various organizations joined together in Panther spirit. After much deliberation and controversy over the censorship of skits, the class split. But as the show neared a happy medium was found. "So here we go Seniors, here's the show Seniors, Senior Stunt Night 1965."

Cal Kellogg and Steve Becker performed a skit about signing the Declaration of Independence.

"Camelot" was featured by the group formerly the Double Quartet.

"The Rain in Spain falls mainly on . . ." Dedee Dukoff as she portrayed Eliza Doolittle. Harry Denen, Leonard Tanner liked portraying rainmakers.

A posse of bouncy cowgirls delighted the audience and added to a memorable night.

"Do-Re-Mi" was one of the many pleasant songs presented by the Triple Trio and thoroughly enjoyed by an audience who listened attentively to the singing group.

LINDA HATHAWAY AND PAM GROSSMAN PERSUASIVELY CHARMED A CURIOUS STEVE BECKER.

Seniors Showed Their Talents As Sundry as the Subjects

"A" Corps Majorette Co-Captain Lydia Hasecke, performed her baton routine to Stunt Night theme song, "Hello Dolly".

Ann Good became "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" as she sang and danced a portrayal of the hit play.

The snake dance in the opening scene of the show expressed the enthusiasm of the Seniors of 1965. Everyone who participated agreed that it was a night of fun they wouldn't soon forget.

The Long Tall Texan, played by Bill Soderburg, rounded up the audience with a smile and a gun.

THE PARADE PULLED INTO THE PARKING LOT AFTER AN EVENTFUL AND WEARY RIDE.

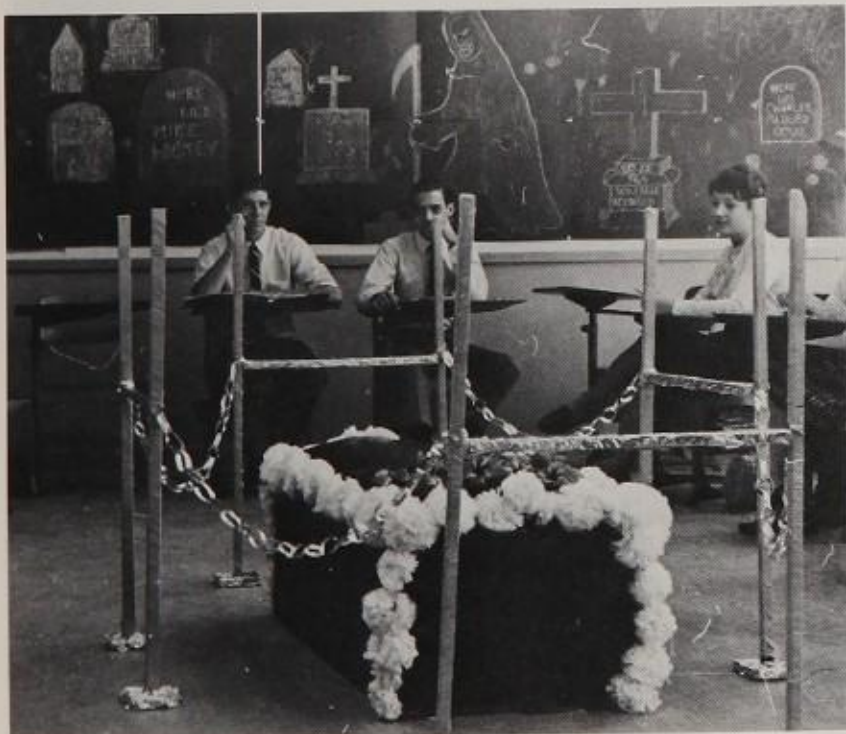

Senior Andy Mueller portrayed a South Dade Rebel about to be eaten for breakfast during Homecoming.

Floats and Skits Highlighted Homecoming's Panther Prowl

Palmetto's 1964 Homecoming proved to be the best yet. Included in this year's festivities were floats from Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes, National Honor Society, Girls' Sports Club and many other organizations. Also included in the activities were skits presented to the Palmetto student body at the Panther Prowl. The announcement of the queen and court was the climax of the Prowl.

The annual Homecoming game against the South Dade Rebels was the third consecutive win for PHS against South Dade. Following the game, students returned to their individual homes to ready themselves for the Homecoming Dance that evening. The queen, Julie Upp, and her court reigned over the evening gaiety. Homecoming was a part of school life that will be remembered.

Homerooms were decorated throughout the school to display support and enthusiasm about Homecoming. 12-22 depicted the burial of South Dade.

The class of '66 added to the spirit and enthusiasm of the Prowl. Junior Class was second in skit competition.

The "Panther Prowl" Provided Enthusiasm for the Big Game

Homecoming weekend began with the "Panther Prowl". As the dismissal bell rang the participants in the parade hurried to finish the last minute details on their floats, while those involved in the Pep Rally skits, later in the evening, nervously rehearsed their lines. Everyone who had nothing to do hurried to await the start of the parade. The drum major's whistle blew and the 1964 Homecoming began. The Senior Class placed first place in the float competition. When the last drum beat had ceased, and the last bite of roast beef eaten, the cheerleaders burst onto the auditorium stage to lead the Pep Rally. Although the clubs competed in the skit competition they were united for one purpose, to "BEAT SOUTH DADE." The judges chose the French Club's skit as the winner. The excitement came to a climax as the Homecoming Queen, Miss Julie Upp was crowned to reign over the football game.

Juniors Dennis Boothe and Sherry Poston made a lovely couple when they danced at the Prowl.

A giant monster invaded the auditorium, but learned that under the care of Susie Plaks, NHS member, he could only eat South Dade.

The Senior Class Homecoming float was outstanding with its representation of the steps to the Sportsmanship Trophy. The float was chosen as the best entry.

The Class of 1966 assured the students of Palmetto that South Dade would not stand a chance with their "Raid Rebel Killer" team at work.

Paramedical's old West medicine show promised the team success as they prescribed a dose of "Dr. Palmetto's Panther Victory Pills and Potions."

Interact members with their unique entry of Volkswagens for their parade float pushed forward in a sincere effort to win an award in Homecoming competition.

"It's time to strike the Rebels" was the slogan used on the German float ridden by Regina Tatum and Mike Craft.

Linda Hathaway and Art Drinkwater went over lines and blocking for their Drama Festival contribution from the play "Antigone."

Acting Ability was Displayed by Palmetto Thespian Troupe 1298

During the 1964-65 school year, the drama department succeeded in presenting productions at Palmetto, the University of Miami and several Beach Hotels. The departments' first presentation, "The Secret of the Doll Shop," was produced entirely by members of the Drama Club. At this time, all persons interested in dramatics were given the opportunity to participate in some phase of production. The Thespian play, "The Importance of Being Earnest" was presented in mid-January by members of troupe 1298.

In the beginning of February, open try-outs were held for drama students interested in performing in the Greater Miami Drama Festival at the Ring Theater. Those chosen to perform appeared before other drama students from Dade County high schools to present their material. After each presentation, several drama instructors from the University of Miami critiqued the performances.

THESPIANS REHEARSED FOR THE DRAMA FESTIVAL AT THE UNIVERSITY'S "RING THEATRE."

Dick Holcomb, Starr Webb, Art Drinkwater and Jane Daly spent many long hours rehearsing for "The Importance of Being Earnest," a big success.

Jane Daly, Steve Becker, and Coci Hart put the finishing touches on a hard scene.

All Classes United and Upheld Palmetto's Traditional Spirit

After defeating Miami High, the number one school in football, PHS was in an uproar. Junior varsity and varsity cheerleaders led enthusiastic crowds in cheering the team's victory. Senior Stunt Night, Homecoming Festivities and the Band Jamboree all contributed to the interest students had in school activities.

Palmetto's representation in the King Orange Bowl Parade by our marching band and majorettes gave the student body a feeling of accomplishment and success in the community. Color Day and Senior Dress-up day were special events at Palmetto which increased the student's desire to improve the atmosphere and appearance of the school. Although Palmetto did not win the sportsmanship trophy, students displayed the usual Palmetto good spirit and dress at all sports activities during the school year.

An atmosphere of spirit and pride surrounded the coveted Palmetto trophies.

The auditorium was the place for ambitious sophomores to release their energy and strive for unity within the class and the entire school.

Kevin Bruce, Bob Thomas and Bill Lamp'l showed spirit by building the coke stand by the gym. Interact sponsored the project.

"Fifteen Rahs for the Panther Team!" Rahs for the team could be heard and "Rahs-Rahs" for the feet could be seen around Palmetto.

Cheerleader Leslie Kehoe, displays the usual Panther spirit as she leads a cheer at the Gables Pep Rally.

SCHOOL SPIRIT WAS HIGH AS THE STUDENTS FILLED THE AUDITORIUM FOR THE GABLES PEP RALLY.

Panther spirit could not be dampened by mere paint. The Panther was scrubbed clean and still remained a symbol of Palmetto HS.

SPIRIT REACHED IT'S PEAK ON NOVEMBER 5

Panther Spirit included respect for a great man, Sir Winston Churchill.

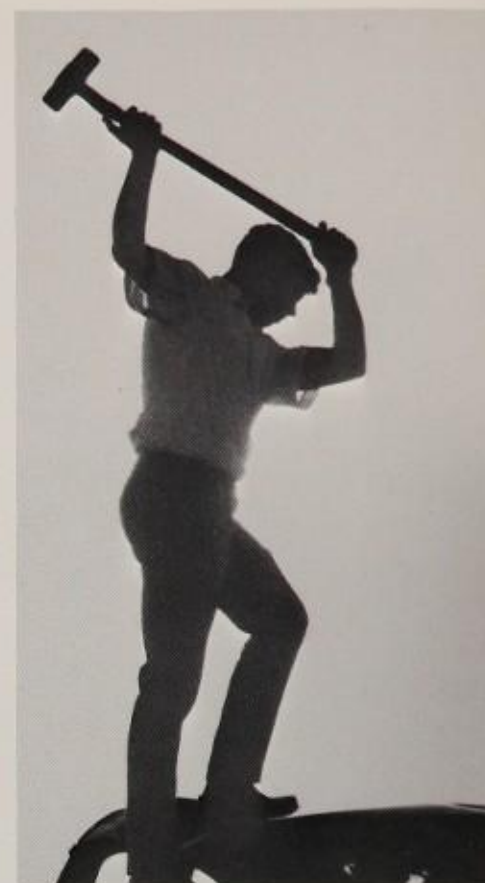

Enthusiasm was high at Palmetto's football games as crowds of students came to support and to cheer their team to victory at Central Stadium.

AS THE PALMETTO PANTHERS UPSET THE UNDEFEATED MIAMI HIGH. EVERY PANTHER WAS PROUD OF PALMETTO.

Hammer in hand, and eager to get customers, Cal Kellogg offered a chance in a life time opportunity to completely smash up an old car.

With a mighty swing, Jim Brodie proved his strength as he demolished the car.

Band Jamboree's Festive Spirit Was Highlight of School Year

One tenth of a dollar, just one thin dime opened a world of enjoyment and fun for everyone at the Palmetto Band Jamboree January 29, 30 and 31. Cotton candy, candy apples, booths, coke and a ferris wheel combined to make a touch of carnival and state fair at Palmetto. There was a car smash, a fishing pond, complete with guppies, a fortune teller with a real crystal ball and a scrambler for the ambitious person with a good stomach.

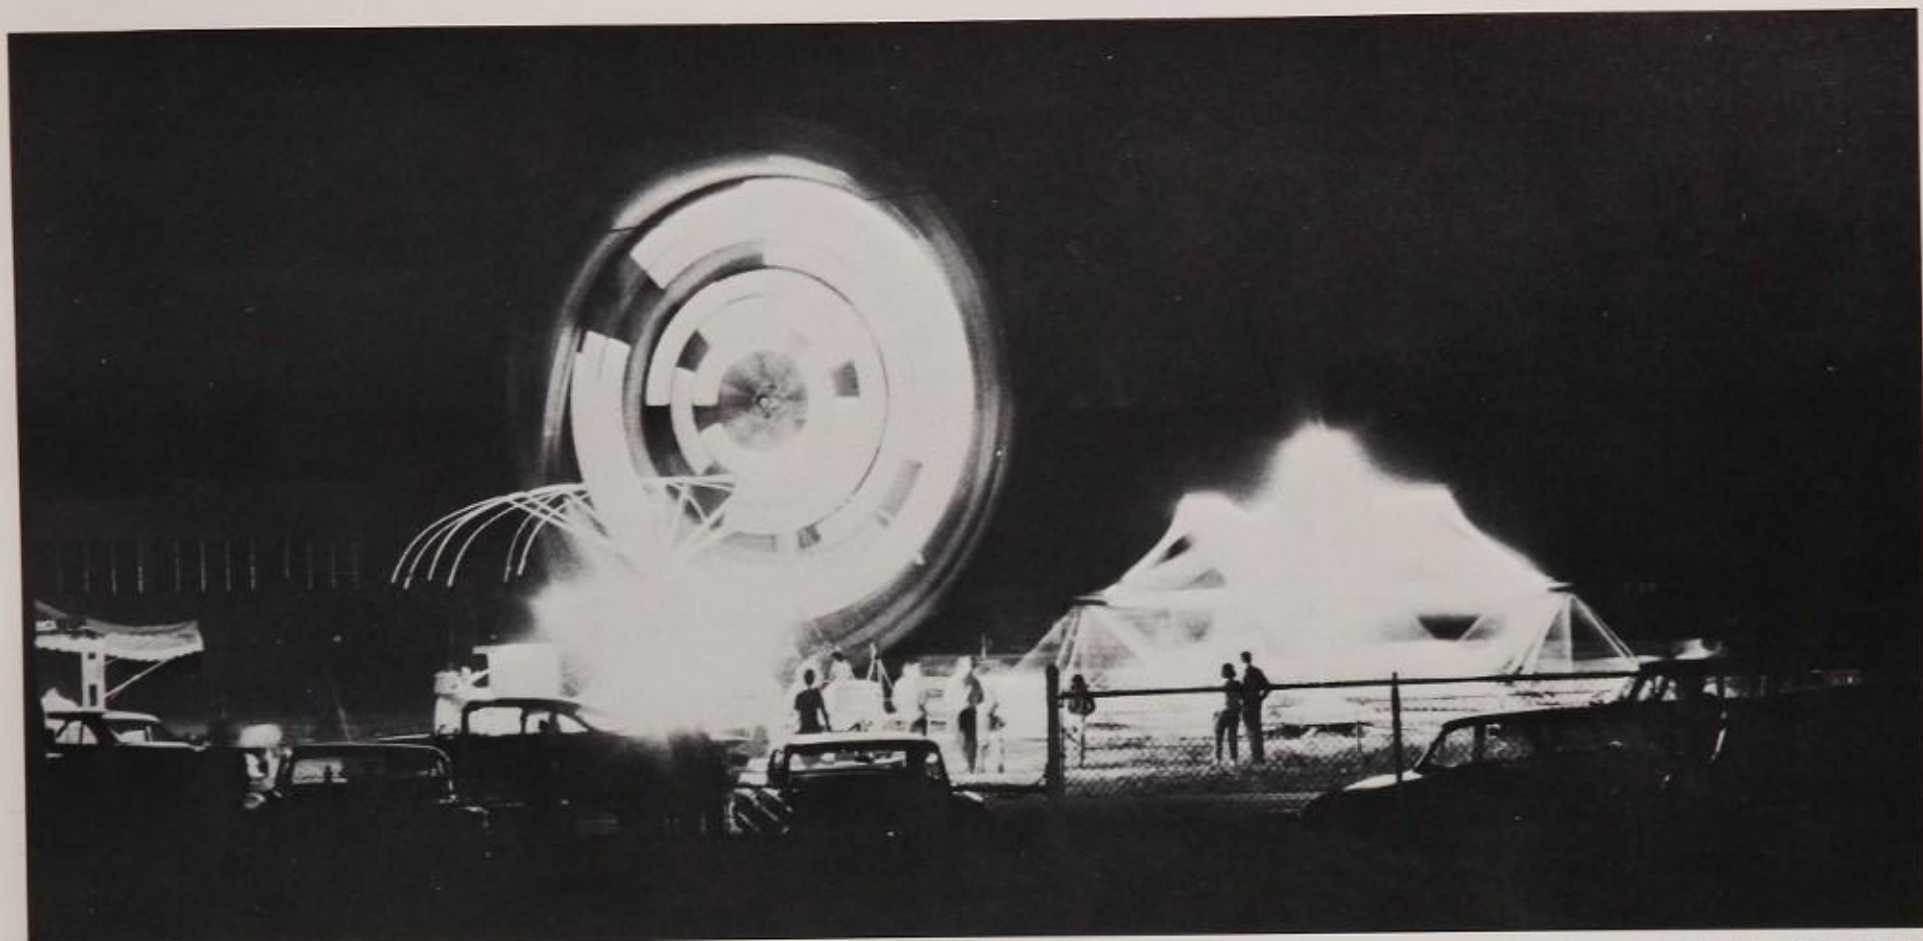

The Panther Band, the Majorettes and the Chatonettes sponsored the Jamboree to raise money for their trip to Washington, D. C. They appeared as the guests of the Cherry Blossom festival committee on April 7-11. The carnival raised approximately $5,000 dollars, which cut the cost of the trip to less than $60 per person. Booths at the Jamboree were designed and maintained by the band members and their parents with the assistance of Palmetto's service clubs. The carnival was a success.

The last day of the Band Jamboree was highlighted by a dance in the cafeteria where the Novas entertained for a large energetic crowd.

Minda Steinberg, the gypsy fortune teller posed outside her tent between customers.

NIGHT EVENTS AT THE BAND JAMBOREE INCLUDING RIDES LIKE THE FERRIS WHEEL AND THE SCRAMBLER WERE A BRILLIANT ATTRACTION.

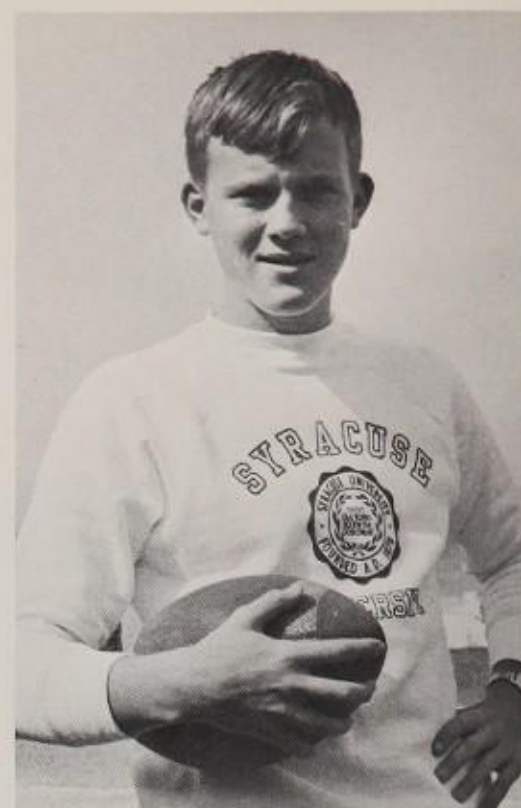

George Taylor's call, "Come one come all to the tent" echoed throughout the fair.

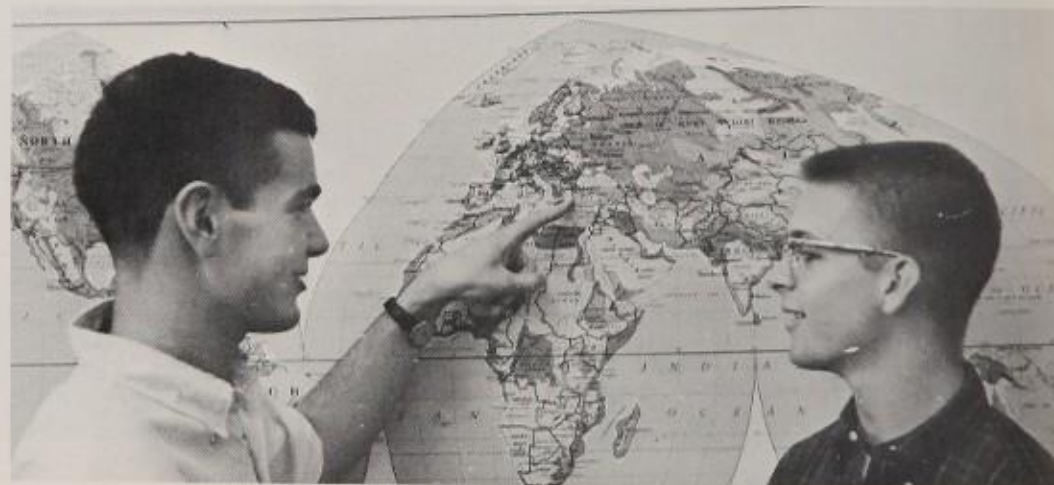

An atmosphere of excitement and gaiety illumined the main tent as the customers patronized such booths as the "Country Store," "Fish Pond" and "White Elephant."

Sven dug into a bag, eager to try those American hamburgers. This is one of the things Sven learned to enjoy while here.

Sven found football to be a part of every high school boy's leisure time activities.

Sitki proudly boasted to Andy Gancarz of his homeland, Turkey. Sitki's stay in the U.S. taught Palmetto students about customs and ideas that were unlike their own.

Sitki and Sven Were Welcomed As Foreign Exchange Students

Palmetto received Foreign Exchange Students from Turkey and Sweden this year. Sitki Gozlu from Izmir, Turkey attended PHS for the first semester. He stayed with junior Andy Gancarz and took both junior and senior courses. Sitki was chosen as an honorary member in the Student Council and National Honor Society.

Palmetto's other exchange student, Sven Boethius, came from Goteborg, Sweden. Sven belonged to German club and was an honorary member of Interact. He also took junior and senior subjects. Sven's favorite pastime in America was football which he played quite often. In Sweden Sven's hobbies are snow skiing, ice hockey and soccer, all of which take up a lot of his spare time. When Sven was asked what he thought of American traditions, food, games and girls he replied that he thinks the traditions are interesting, the food is great, the games are fun, and the girls, well girls are girls wherever you go.

Sitki enjoyed talking to Linda Smith at the Junior "Come September" dance.

PHS Was Well Represented At Annual Girls' and Boys' State

Larry Berrin, Susan Reddaway, Jeff Brookstone, Barbara Maxwell, Bill Leppig and John Steinbauer were the students from Palmetto who attended Girls' and Boys' State in the summer of '64.

The six representatives enjoyed a week of campaigning, elections and actual legislation. Florida State dorms were made available for the staters to occupy. Both girls' and boys' state used the chambers of the Florida Senate and House for their sessions.

Organizations, such as the American Legion, sponsored the students who were then recommended by their respective schools. After being selected as a stater, the representatives attended an orientation session designed to prepare them for the week in Tallahassee. In addition to members of the American Legion, staters from previous years were present.

Varsity Cheerleaders Promoted Spirit and Drive in the Panthers

"Come on Palmetto, stand up and growl . . ." Wherever the mighty Panthers played, ten figures of bouncing, whirling blue and white were seen leading a crowd in cheers and the team to victory. They were Baxter Billson, Leslie Kehoe, Stephanie Kremser, Co-captain Robin Lambie, June McElmoyle, Cindy Murray, Jackie Repo, Wendy Tichenor, Marvi Wynn and Captain Julie Upp. The girls were chosen after two weeks of exhausting tryouts on the basis of their poise, personality, ability to cheer and their smile. Their spirit brought a win over Miami High and a toss for the Gold Coast Championship. Wherever they went, football games, basketball games, dinner with other cheerleaders, even television commercials, they represented the high spirit of Palmetto H. S.

Junior Varsity Squad Cheered At Every JV Basketball Game

"Hey, hey, ho, ho, Come on Panthers, let's go . . ." yelled the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders as they led the enthusiastic crowds during the J.V. basketball games. Whether at home, in our gym, or in gyms from Broward County to Key West, the J.V. Cheerleaders reported for duty at 6:00 to support the Baby Panther basketball team. Dressed in traditional blue and white, the J.V. Cheerleaders were a source of spirit and drive for Palmetto.

Tryouts for the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders were in October, following the football season. After two weeks of learning and practice in the gym, eliminations began. The girls were judged on smile, jumps and appearance. Ten of them were chosen after the strenuous tryouts and eliminations. The girls were Andrea Geist, Chris Gergen, Kathy Harris, Robin Horder, Pat Snelling, Diane Taylor, Jane Williams, Cheryl Carmichael and Cathy Thomas.

Marching Band Raised Money To Make Cherry Blossom Trip

John Cowart played an "awakening" tune of "The Yellow Rose of Texas" at a game.

Palmetto's marching band engaged in busy activity this year to prepare for their participation in the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C. New uniforms were obtained for all band members and fund-raising projects were organized. Such projects included a candy sale, a car wash, and the Band Jamboree. After successfully planning their jamboree, the group was able to earn a majority of the money toward their trip to Washington.

The band presented two concerts at Palmetto, the "Sound of Music" in December and "On to Washington" on March 27. Band members sold ads that appeared in the concert programs which added to their trip fund.

Under the direction of Mr. Joe Bragg, and drum major Cal Kellogg, the band marched in the Orange Bowl Parade and participated in the pre-game and half-time shows during the New Year's festivities at the Orange Bowl.

During rehearsal, drum major Cal Kellogg, practiced a drum roll-off with the band.

Mr. Joe Bragg conducted the marching band, at a practice after school in the band room. Such rehearsals resulted in good performances throughout the year.

CHATONETTES PERFORMED DURING 1965 IN NEW UNIFORMS WHICH WERE STYLED AFTER WEST POINT CADETS.

Chatonettes spent many long hours of afternoon practice in preparation for half-time shows and other activities which included parades.

Fostering School Spirit Was Aim Of Precision Dance, Drill Team

Chatonettes, Palmetto's precision dance team, performed at all half-time shows during the 1964 football season. The group was composed of sophomore, junior and senior girls who were required to maintain a minimum 2.6 scholastic average and obtain no conduct below a C. The selection of new Chatonettes took place last spring when over 100 girls competed for positions on the dance team.

The Chatonettes participated in both the Orange Bowl festivities in December and the Cherry Blossom Festival at Washington, D.C. in early April. While in Washington, the Chatonettes were given the opportunity to march in the Cherry Blossom Parade and spend their remaining time touring the city.

Assisting with a community project, the dance team worked for the American Cancer Society during the year. The Chatonettes also aided P.H.S. by fostering school spirit in school and at games.

J. Reisinger, H. Starr, G. Davenport, B. Hahn and J. Atteridge. The back row from left to right H. Seegars, M. O'Donnell, P. Anderson, L. Sulli, P. Sliker, S. Casper, E. Havenor and S. Gillman.

The Chatonettes marched along with the band and majorettes in the Homecoming Parade adding color with their new costumes and shakers.

OFFICERS WERE CAPTAIN VIRGINIA CORCORAN AND LTS. MOLLY BUNNELL AND MARGARET MITCHELL.

Parades and Football Season Kept Pantherette Corps Active

The Pantherettes began one of their busiest seasons with their fall debut at the Gables football game. Under the sponsorship of Miss Nonie Greene, twirling practice began last summer to prepare for an active schedule this year. The Palmetto majorette corps appeared in all halftime shows for PHS and during the Homecoming festivities. In addition to this, the Pantherettes participated in the King Orange Bowl Parade, the pre-game and halftime shows, and the Firework's Pageant. After accepting an invitation to participate in the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C., the majorettes worked many hours to earn funds for this purpose. Money raising projects included a car wash and a bake sale. The Pantherettes also worked in conjunction with the band at their first annual Band Jamboree. They helped as usherettes at the band's concerts during the year.

Gail Gergen and Kathy Smith peered out from under the raincoat in a drenching rainstorm as Hialeah scored another touchdown against PHS.

Lydia Hasecke and Kathy Smith, co-captains of the majorettes helped to devise the season's many intricate half-time shows.

"A" Corps Majorettes were Bobbie La Perche, Deedee Duckworth, Julianne Kaiser, Holly Wienges, Marikey McCarty, Kain Ostlund, McLaughlin and Ellen Zank. Captains Lydia Hasecke and Kathy Smith.

"B" Corps majorettes for this year were: Carol Stuckhouser, Carla Mosely, Martha Henry, Pat Mulligan, and Jeanne Hornbuckel. Lolly Leppig was the captain. They were all sophomores.

Senior Soloists Gail Gergen and Jan Swanson delighted spectators at halftime with their carefully practiced sailor duet.

Soloist, Patti Williams, and Head Majorette, Mary Alice Goetz, led the entertaining halftime shows during football season.

After months of tedious practice, Gail Gergen, Mary Alice Goetz, and Jan Swanson looked calm as they waited to perform in the Curley game.

Bands, Speeches and Promises Comprised Palmetto Elections

As in previous years, bands and combos livened up election week by playing for their candidates. The Squires played during early sessions this year.

For one week during the Spring, the school was transformed into one gigantic campaign headquarters. Posters adorned the walls, ceilings and windows to publicize candidates. Before and after school the "Squires" and other musical groups attracted massive crowds to hear the campaign speeches. Candidates visited homerooms, television classes and assemblies to enlist support. The auditorium rang and the halls echoed the excitement as students participated in the democratic process of evaluating, selecting and casting their ballots.

The suspense mounted as the election week reached its climax. The candidates anxiously awaited the day of decision. The final votes were tabulated, then announced, congratulations made and apologies offered . . . Palmetto again passed into the hands of a new student government.

Colleen Osborne enthusiastically campaigned for Margee O'Donnell. The interested spectators gathered around the various campaigners to choose the best candidates.

Gary McCorkle employed various political tactics and methods to get people on his candidate's skate board.

Steve Todd and Gary McCorkle worked diligently on their campaigns by making posters for elections.

Junior Hank Street was one of the many candidates competing for an office during the up and coming school year.

After their performance at the New York World's Fair the chorus was presented a medallion sent by the Governor of Florida.

Palmetto's Chorus Sang at The 1964 New York World's Fair

It was "New York or burst" for Palmetto's 88 member chorus last summer. They raised $10,000 during the school year to cover the expenses of the trip. They "sang their way to the fair" for they earned their money with their talents. They performed over 40 times during the year and when they boarded the train for New York they were still singing. This time it was hootenannies. They serenaded New York policemen with "Mickey Mouse" in eight part harmony. Their impromptu sidewalk concerts astonished New Yorkers. And then all their work was rewarded when they sang at the Fair at the Florida Pavillion.

Besides just being exhausted there was one case of chicken pox, German measles and laryngitis. On the last day after they received certificates for their performance the tears glistened in their eyes as the 88 sang for the last time together the Palmetto High School Alma Mater. As they sang the hours of hard work and many rehearsals all seemed worthwhile.

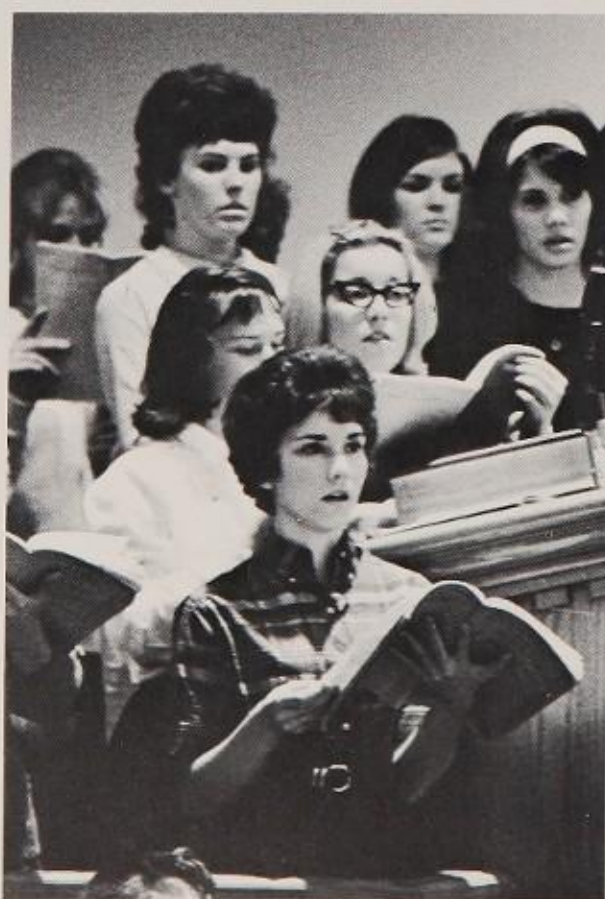

After final performance at the fair, the chorus posed for a picture at the Dade County exhibit where they performed.

At the studio in the R. C. A. Pavillion, a fifteen minute color video tape of Palmetto's Concert Chorus was made to be shown to visitors at the World's Fair in years to come.

Concert Chorus, together with two other choruses, practiced for their performance of the "Messiah."

Concert Chorus, Double Quintet And Triple Trio Were Active

The Concert Chorus vigorously participated in many activities this year, in serving the community. For the last three years, they have sung the "Messiah" with Southwest High School and this year Coral Gables joined them.

They sang for various Miami musical clubs, country clubs and many local churches. They appeared on the Ted Mack Show and TV programs including "Music With Sevitzky." The Chorus was also featured on Radio stations WVCG, WGBS, and WINZ.

They have sung for Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, and many national conventions. The Concert Chorus also sang at the Orange Bowl Easter Sunrise Pageant, at the Greater Miami Executive Association and at the National Musical Federation.

In school they have presented the Christmas Choral Fantasia and Spring Concert. The choruses contributions enhanced PHS' cultural atmosphere.

Choral Ensembles Were Active With Community Appearances

Double Quintet, Triple Trio, Girls' Chorus and Singing Men pursued an active schedule of singing engagements during the 1964-65 school year. These included an appearance on the Ted Mack Show and entertainment for many civic and community organizations. The Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions Clubs welcomed performances by DQ and Triple Trio as did many music and womens' clubs in Greater Miami.

Together with Concert Chorus, the two ensemble groups were viewed on the Music With Sevitzky program, sponsored by Channel 2 T.V. The Triple Trio and Double Quintet were also featured on radio programs by WVCG and WGBS during December. In addition to this the madrigal groups have earned superior ratings for the past three years.

The Miami Palmetto Girls' Concert Chorus singers for 1964-1965 were first row, Kay Duman, Georgena Heacock, Jennifer Buckwell, Eva Bentley, Carolyn Rife, Glenora Rickoff, Roberta Findley, Adrienne Pruett, Judy Parker, Terry Bryan, Sandra Gee, Susan Pope and Vicki Stark; second row, Jean Hornbuckle, Barbara Shahan, Cathy Camesi, Julie Fleming, Debbie Pearson, Pam Anderson, Lucinda Sanderson, Sandra Laws, Caryl Formato, Dendy Wickham, Jean Bell and Gail Van Doren; third row, Lynn Roberts, Carol Biller, Gail Davenport, Diane Romano, Susan Leverette, Pat Albatys, Margie Bliss, Sharon Langston, Naomi Hersh, Susan Derry, Hedy Becker and Hanna Bradley.

The girls participated in state and district contests for the first time this year and were awarded superior ratings.

The group joined Palmetto's musical family this year and were featured in the annual spring concert.

During sixth period Linda Chapel, Pat Johnson, Kitty Brownell, Nancy Morgan and Judy Hill served as office assistants helping the secretaries in performing routine duties.

Sandra Waldron, Steve Connell and Kathy Reed, fourth period office assistants, helped the office workers with tasks such as running errands and distributing absentee lists.

Office assistants Jackie Repo and Tony Eno worked fifth period delivering attendance sheets and answering the telephone.

A. JONES, D. SMITH, S. JONES AND J. JAMES WERE THIRD PERIOD OFFICE ASSISTANTS.

Modern Office Was Expanded With Student Assistants Aid

This year the office assistants helped organize the new office wing by arranging filing cabinets, carrying in materials and directing students to the temporary offices in the teachers' lounge. The assistants regular duties included filing IBM cards, writing out attendance admits and maning the clinic in the absence of the school nurse.

Office monitors were responsible for calling students from classes for guidance appointments. They also helped the assistant principals and counselors by doing research in the library. As the assistants were giving up their study hall period to work in the office they were permitted to study part of each period. The assistants also helped new students to their scheduled classes.

Attendance assistants were B. Bailey, P. Keller, M. Compton, G. Fisher, S. Warren, L. Berrin, T. Kepner.

The 1965 office assistants for third period were Diane Huband, Barbara Taylor, Judy Joy, Gail Nichols and Sharon Speier. These senior girls aided the secretaries with routine clerical duties.

Fifth period office assistants were Pat Ginn, John Black, Elaine Thigpen, Myles Abbott, Marcia Kinney.

ASSISTANTS WERE JANE WILLIAMS, RETHA MCINTOSH, JANICE WOOD, MARCIA WELLIVER.

The '65 Modern Dance Club consisted of first row, E. Matsch, C. Turner, J. Atteridg, J. Keller, S. Fletcher, S. Kidd and S. Emmons; second row, B. Lawrence, S. Morrow, L. Mahoney, L. Stearns, L. Dorr, M. Steinberg, K. Underwood, K. Steinberg, C. Halsey, J. Schiff, I. Coleman, K. Rasmussen and S. Uhly; third row, S. Lawrence, M. Meyer, J. Hill, R. Ritzman, A. Good, M. Smith, C. Michel, K. Engel, S. Hansen, P. Lewis, C. Rainy, M. Saunders, A. Fisk, P. McLamore, B. Lakin, J. Stamm, L. Eliseo, D. Dempster, C. Good and K. Westmoreland. These girls spent many hours after school practicing and perfecting their difficult routines in the gym.

New Modern Dance Club Added Expressive Art to School

On Monday afternoons music floated from the school gym while inside the girls dressed in black leotards practiced the art of expression through modern dance. In class, the first semester was devoted to interpretive dancing, while the second semester to jazz. The club was formed this year to provide extra opportunities for those girls interested in advancing and practicing the art. Miss Nonie Greene, club advisor and dancing teacher, helped with the organization with various performances throughout the year. They entertained the sophomore and junior girls at the annual Girls' Council Christmas Fashion Show by their interpretive rendition of the holiday season.

The Modern Dance club also performed before the PE classes during the Christmas season. These excellent performances began a successful year for the active group.

Sharon Morrow, historian of the modern dance class, performed a Charleston routine from the Roaring 20's.

Judy Hill, who was chaplain of the Modern Dance Club, practiced one of her many jazz routines.

Officers were Kathy Ward, treas.; Sharon Childers, pres.; Adrian Walker, v. pres.; Lynn Bowers, sec.

THE ADVANCE MODERN DANCE CLASS PRACTICED THEIR ROUTINE TO THE POPULAR MUSIC "PINK PANTHER" IN THE SCHOOL GYM.

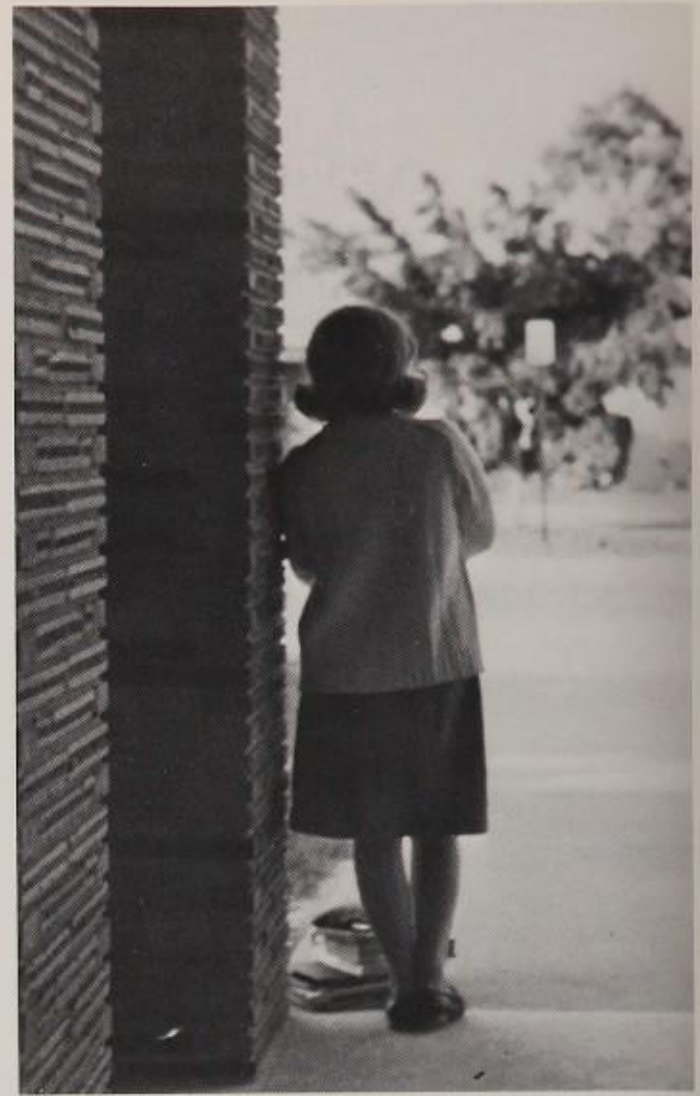

Elisha Matsch knew the value of exercise for membership in the modern dance club.

Sharon Uhle relaxed for a moment during a tiring, yet enjoyable, modern dance lesson in the school gym during the second period.

Many Phases of School Life Made a Well-Rounded Student

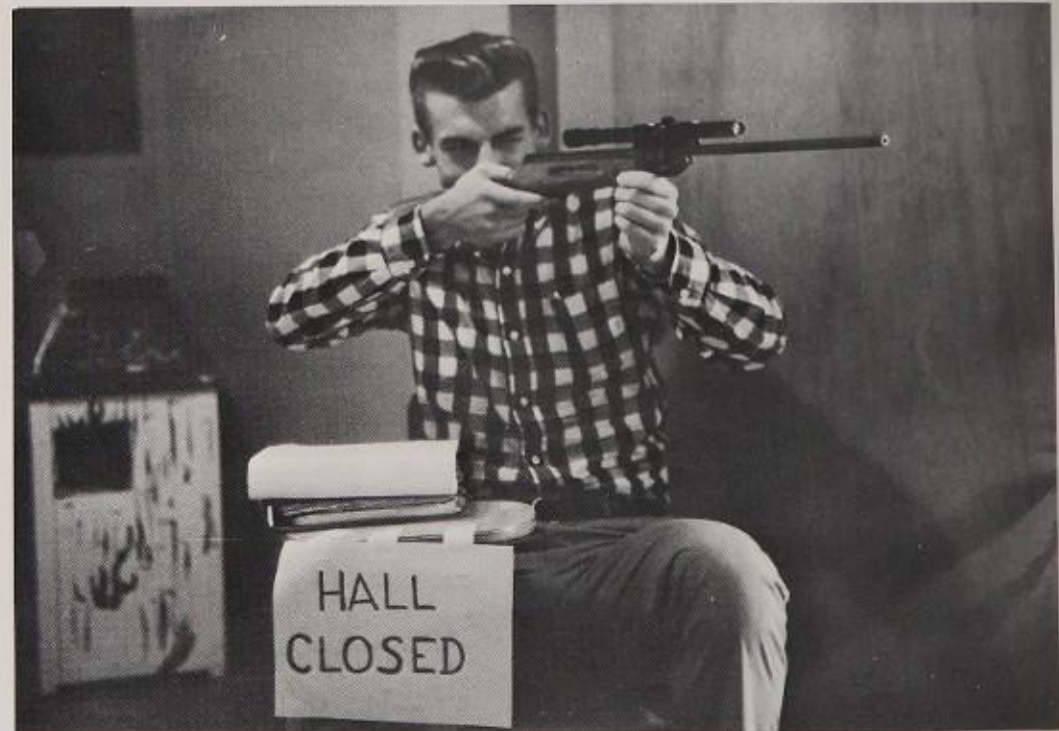

Below the surface of verb conjugations, chemistry formulas and algebra equations could be found other faces of Palmetto High School. There was the excitement to be found as students gained honor and recognition in the community, or the nation. Joy was discovered in victories in sports' competition or in having a date with that special person to the prom. Tenseness was reflected during exams and as seniors awaited answers to college applications. Relaxation was found in the simple meeting of friends after classes in the halls or on the senior patio. Refreshment was as near as the ice cream machine if you could get through the halls. These Palmetto faces all reflected the year 1965.

The end of the day, classes over, club meeting over and a student waited for her ride near PHS' new brick facade.

The juice machines were in demand throughout the year as gym students purchased the cool thirst-quenchers.

Sixth period hall monitor David Page jokingly exaggerated the "police action" in the hall. The check system used both pupils and teachers. All halls were supposedly closed.

April 15 was the day seniors bound for college waited for eagerly but with trembling anxiety. This was the day most colleges sent their acceptances.

This was a year of questioning for Holly Hamilton who sought knowledge that would be of value to her later.

THE ART DEPARTMENT DESIGNED AND CONSTRUCTED MANNEQUINS AS THEIR PROJECT.

Dede Yates crossed her fingers and joyfully listened to the election results.

Mrs. Howard, head of the cafeteria, was often seen on the phone placing food orders efficiently.

Many hundreds of delicious pies were made during the year by the cafeteria workers.

The custodial staff at Palmetto had to start early and finish late in order to clean the school daily. It was often necessary for the staff to help with special events.

Taking time from her daily jobs, Mrs. Perry relaxed momentarily. One job was to keep the teachers' lounge clean.

Stacking and unstacking the chairs in the cafeteria every day was a large job.

A duty of the cafeteria staff was making icing in large quantities for the cakes.

School Staff Worked To Make PHS' Surroundings Pleasant

Behind the scenes was a hard working custodial staff who kept PHS functioning smoothly. Every evening the lights burned into the night as the custodians cleaned the rooms. Chalk dust, paper and gum wrappers were swept away. Blackboards were washed and desks straightened.

Every morning the cafeteria staff prepared lunch. A variety of main dishes, salads and desserts provided a nutritious menu. When special events arose the entire staff was willing to help in any way they could. The many vocational breakfasts were made possible through the cooperation of the cafeteria workers. They assembled a roast beef banquet for the Panther Prowl and honored the football team with a well earned steak dinner after the victory over Miami High. The custodial staff was always on hand for assistance during night time club meetings. Without these energetic workers, PHS couldn't function as efficiently as it did.

The main office was kept clean and was swept daily by the custodial staff.

Mr. Broadt, head custodian, supervised the staff which worked to keep the school neat.

Keeping the cold lunch line fully stocked was a job which kept the cafeteria staff very busy.

NHS Donut Sales And Tapping Rounded Out Its Full Program

National Honor Society's busy schedule of events this year began with a donut sale, the first of several to come during 1964-65. Ushering during Parent-Teacher conference day and at College Night were just a few aspects of the services performed for Palmetto. Selected members presented informative talks to the TV classes and to the sophomore class during National Education Week. All members helped teachers decorate their show windows and their rooms.

An induction of new members took place during a special Senior Assembly. The tappees were announced for the first time at the assembly and to their surprise it was attended by their parents who had been called early that morning. Both juniors and seniors are eligible for membership in NHS. Tapping twice a year, once in the fall and again in the spring, NHS looks for students who have at least a 3.4 average in scholarship, and have shown strong evidence of service to their school. NHS completed its busy schedule with a banquet and picnic at the close of the year.

MAΘ Made Tutoring Available For Students In Mathematics

Mu Alpha Theta, national mathematics honor society, completed another year striving to stimulate and broaden student interest in math. All members have held a 3.4 average for the five required semesters of higher math. The club provided its main service to the student body by supplying tutors to those requesting additional help in algebra or geometry. The club also prepared all interested students for competition in the National Mathematics Exam given in the spring.

New Mu Alpha Theta members were K. Arnholt, J. Cohen, C. Neustein, B. McLeod, R. Anderson, P. Swinney, J. Wells, P. Ryan, J. Taylor, S. Walcutt, P. Fogle, L. Lundelius, M. Philips, J. Sass, C. Drama Honor Society Sponsors School Theatrical Productions

Thespian Troup #1298 was established at Palmetto in 1961 as a branch of the National Drama Honor Society. Each member has devoted at least 100 hours to work in the entertainment arts. This year the troupe sponsored many worthwhile projects. Two Thespian Plays were presented, the season's opener being Oscar Wilde's The Importance of Being Earnest. In addition, Thespians contributed to the success of Sr. Stunt Night, the Spring Musical, and the Sr. Class Play.

Troupe representatives furthered their understanding of drama techniques at the University of Miami Drama Festival. Field trips to the Ring Theatre, Studio M, and the Coconut Grove Playhouse completed the year.

Sybil Sernaker counted the money received from the Thespian Valentine Day flower sale. The profits were used for the tappee's installation.

The cast of "The Importance of Being Earnest" gathered around Mrs. Carla Harvey after a successful production.

Many Thespians like Pamela Grossman got extra acting experience by being in productions at the Studio M.

Exceptional Students With "A" Averages Honored by Society

La Société Honoraire de Français is the national French honor society sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of French. The 25 members of Palmetto's chapter 280 have earned an A average in French for at least five semesters and an overall B average. Sixteen new members were inducted into the organization this year in an impressive ceremony at the annual banquet of La Société Française at Chez Pépé. This was a fitting climax to the year for Palmetto's French Club which was led by Robert Thompson, president.

LNHS Recognizes Outstanding Students in the Field of Latin

Since its founding in 1962, Latin National Honor Society has played an active part at Palmetto. The Society, founded by Dr. Abat Warsley at Elizabeth, New Jersey, accepts outstanding Latin students who achieve and maintain a 3.6 average in Latin for three semesters. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Lenore Gundershiemer and Mr. Ivan Davis, Latin National's main project has been tutoring Latin 1 and 2 students, and helping them achieve a greater understanding in the ancient Roman language.

El Calderon Emphasized Latin American Culture and Customs

Spanish National Honor Society was founded at Palmetto to honor all outstanding Spanish students. The requirements are a 3.6 average for five semesters of Spanish and a 3.0 overall average for all other subjects.

The most important project that SNHS undertook this year was collecting and delivering food for needy Spanish families in Miami during the Christmas vacation. Donna Carlson and Linda Rietz headed this project. Margaret Bitz and Nancy Zankl organized Christmas carolling.

SNHS tapped their new members on the tenth of February and sponsored a doughnut sale two days later. The new tapes were required to sell ten dozen boxes. The new members were inducted at a special meeting.

Later in the spring, SNHS and Spanish Club jointly sponsored a Spanish Hootenanny. This event was opened to the public. SNHS rounded out the year by paying a tribute to senior members.

Marc and Andre, folksingers from France, performed at Palmetto while on tour of the U.S. They were hosted by the U of M and the Palmetto French Clubs.

French Club attentively watched the movie, "The Little Red Balloon," a documentary on Paris which was shown at one of the evening meetings. Many documentary films on France were shown.

French Society's Onion Soup Refreshments Reflected France

At the end of its third year of existence, La Societe de Francaise added many new activities. Evening meetings were given on the first Thursday of every month. Speakers and a film, the "Little Red Balloon," were some of the diversified programs presented. Mardi Gras was replaced by the Band Jamboree this year.

In December, the society sponsored the French folksingers, Marc and Andre. This event was open to the entire school. The club also adopted a French orphan. They corresponded with her and sent her presents at Christmas and on her birthday. The highlight of the year was the state Congres where students participated in contests in French dictation, extemporaneous speaking and poetry.

Native German Life Was Shown By Enthusiastic DDB Members

Die Deutsche Bruderschaft, Palmetto's German Club, began a successful year with their Oktoberfest party. When Homecoming rolled around, DDB had an original cuckoo clock float for the annual Parade. During the Christmas holidays, the members went caroling. They sang German songs and carols and ended the evening with a club party. The year's activities concluded with a combined meeting with Southwest Senior High and Coral Gables Senior High clubs to compare activities and projects that they had participated in during 1964.

The Senior Banquet held at the very close of school honored the outstanding seniors of Die Deutsche Bruderschaft for service and scholarship.

DDB's main objectives were to introduce to the students of Palmetto the customs and manners of the German people. Authentic reproductions of many different facets of native German life were presented and explained. Parties, films, trips, and speakers, achieved this goal.

Cathy Craft meticulously outlined and painted the decorative border on the Die Deutsche Bruderschaft float showing a German cuckoo clock.

German Club members Charles Lyons, Anita Fisk and Shawn Lipscomb, made their suggestions on a Christmas caroling project at a meeting that was held early in December.

Mrs. Ingeborg Frank, German Club sponsor at PHS, listened to discussion at a meeting.

Active members of Palmetto's German language club or the Die Deutsche Bruderschaft for the school year of 1964-1965 were: first row, S. Lipscomb, S. Steinbring, B. Brown, and D. Reed; second row, S. JCL Participated in State-Wide And District Latin Conventions

Junior Classical League, JCL, was a chapter of the national organization. The members acted as teacher's helpers for the District 10 Latin Forum for junior high Latin students. They also participated in the state-wide forum held this year at Tarpon Springs.

JCL was open to all students or former students of Latin. At monthly meetings, the students presented programs about Roman life and customs. The programs gave students insight into diverse aspects of Latin.

JCL also sponsored a fund-raising "trick or treat" candy sale for Halloween in October. The funds were used to send delegates to the forum. A Roman banquet was given in the spring. The banquet was the climax of the year.

L'Avant Garde Brought Cultural View To PHS

Field trips to art galleries, frequently the Lowe Gallery, were an important aspect of L'Avant Garde's activities. Art professionals invited to speak to the club added to the cultural panorama which passed before the art students.

Art students again participated in the annual Christmas card sale. The cards were designed by L'Avant Garde members. They also took part in Homecoming activities by designing and building the Court's float. In December a Christmas party was given and at the end of the year a banquet was presented.

Leading the club for 1964-1965 were Don Thomas, president; Richard Sevigny, vice president; Anita Fisk, secretary; and Penny Millard, treasurer. The club was sponsored by Mrs. M. Lindquist and Miss Scherer.

The purpose of L'Avant Garde was to stimulate interest in art and to afford opportunities for students to participate in community art and other cultural events.

Drama Club's Many Activities Kept Its Membership Working

Drama Club took part in a wide range of activities this year under the guidance of Mrs. Carla Harvey. The club's first project was selecting and organizing its annual Children's Play. The chosen presentation this season was "The Secret of the Doll Shop" which was performed at local elementary schools, hospitals, and Miami Beach hotels. Drama club also participated in the Homecoming parade with a clever float constructed by its membership. Special programs were arranged with guest speakers to lecture the club on various phases of the entertainment arts. Together with Thespians, Drama Club participated in the Drama Festival at the Ring Theater of the University of Miami. Members also assisted backstage during the Thespian production, "The Importance of Being Earnest." Many interested Drama Club members became eligible for membership in the National Thespian Society.

Literary Society Exemplified Creativity in the Finer Arts

This year the Literary Society published the second edition of Palmetto's Literary Arts magazine. The magazine was written and illustrated entirely by students. The society also sponsored trips for any interested students to several cultural events around Miami, including the Glass Menagerie, Dr. Faustus, and Little Mary Sunshine, plays at the Ring Theatre. The society had several guest speakers throughout the year, including Fred Shaw, book editor of the Miami News, and Alice Stockdale, a local poet.

CBE Students Found Time to Care for a Needy Youngster

The Palmetto chapter of the Cooperative Business Education Club of Florida (CBE) was coordinated by Mrs. Katherine George. The students who participated held steady jobs while attending school. They began their days with a 7:30 class and worked from 12:30 to 5:00 p.m.

CBE sponsored a beach party, a Halloween party, a countywide CBE hootenanny and a vocational breakfast in January. Palmetto delegates attended the District 10 conference at the Dupont Plaza in October and in March they attended the state convention in Jacksonville where Vicki Jackson was invited to speak.

The club's community service project was the adoption of a needy child. The CBE students paid for his care for a year. And the most important event of the year was the Employer-Employee Banquet which was attended by all CBE members who brought their employers as their guests.

Veda Hodges found that the skills she learned through CBE courses came in handy when coping with daily business problems on the job.

First Row: D. Thomas, P. Lytle, S. Fletcher, D. Chadwell, C. Pero, J. Reisinger, L. Bowers, E. Dow, C. Johnston, J. Bramley and S. DeBeck. Second Row: C. McAlear, M. Jones, K. Steinburg, J. Echo officers for 1964-65 were: Linda Galt, chaplain; Marlene Dow, historian; Jacque Buckley, president; Valorie Mitten, treasurer; Barbara Walls, vice-president; and Sue Sinnamon, secretary.

Echo's senior sweethearts were Charlie Pemble and Gary Gibbs. Junior sponsor was Bob Doyle.

Echo Completed First School Year As Second Girls' Service Club

Echo was brought into existence this year by an ambitious group of juniors who felt that Palmetto needed a second girls' service club to provide an opportunity for many more girls to aid PHS and the community.

The first project of the year took place on January 15 and 16, when Echo members ushered at the Thespian production, "The Importance of Being Earnest." Many other worth-while projects were accomplished following this, beginning with the upkeep of a cookie jar in the teachers' lounge. A Valentine's Day Sock Hop was sponsored by Echo after the Miami Beach basketball game in our gym. Succeeding this, the club spent many hours working at Easter Seal. New members were tapped on February 16, and further decisions on future undertakings were outlined. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mary Niles and Mrs. Jane Simmons, Echo completed its first year at Palmetto with the promise of more.

Vicki Stark replenished the cookie jar in the faculty lounge, a project undertaken recently by Echo.

AFTER THE MIAMI BEACH BASKETBALL GAME ECHO HOSTED THE VALENTINE DANCE.

Echo's first new members selected during the second semester were: Carol Davis, Kay Duman, Gail Nichols, Barbara Maxwell, Jean Powers, Linda Mims, Linda Hudgins, Ann Dance and Maryann Utley.

The Les Jeunes Filles members this year were kept quite busy with many activities and projects. The members started off the year by collecting Halloween candy for the orphans at Kendall Home. At Thanksgiving, the members made up baskets sent to needy families. Christmas marked the annual party for Cystic Fibrosis children, and stuffing envelopes for Christmas Seals. During Easter, each member made 1000 Easter Lilies for the Crippled Children's Society.

Each Saturday the members collected points by working at the Thrift Shop in South Miami. Various services provided around the school included the upkeep of college catalogs, and serving at various school functions. Social functions included an Induction Tea and the annual end of the year party.

Boys' Service Club Initiated Parking Area Supervision Plan

The club aided Palmetto and the community with many projects for the betterment of both. Members accepted the responsibility of maintaining the Senior patio which provided much enjoyment for the student body throughout the year. In addition, Interact served as door monitors before school and supervised parking in the teachers' lot. Signs welcoming opposing basketball teams were constructed by members to create good will between Palmetto and other schools. The club was also responsible for assisting with the parking of cars before the games. Serving refreshments during Parent-Teacher Conference Day was another project sponsored by Interact. Cookies were also donated to Kendall Hospital and together with Les Jeunes Filles, the club presented a Christmas Party to children afflicted with Cystic Fibrosis. Through its endeavors, Interact gained recognition from the Perrine Leader which featured the club in two articles during the year.

Key Placed Service First On Its Agenda for 1964-65

Key Club completed numerous activities and projects in 1965. Their special service project was working for the Haven School for the Mentally Retarded. In addition, the club delivered food that was donated to the Variety Children's Hospital. During the elections, members printed and displayed Key Club posters urging citizens to vote for their chosen candidate.

Working for Palmetto, the club constructed spirit signs which were seen at all football games. Programs were also sold before home games by various members. Key Club further assisted the student body by chartering the buses for the trip to the Key West football game and by aiding the administration during the Homecoming festivities in November of 1964.

The keypal program, which introduced the Key Club membership to the many careers open to them through Kiwanis members, was an additional project undertaken by the club.

GC Fashioned High Standards In Dress, Conduct and Spirit

This year's Girls' Council is composed of six representatives from each grade level and six chosen at large from the student body. Its main purposes are to uphold high standards of conduct, to encourage proper dress, to foster school spirit and to make every girl feel that she is an important part of Palmetto High. Some of the activities included a sock hop honoring the football team after their victory over Curley and another victory sock hop after the North Miami basketball game. On October 2, a formal assembly was held to induct new members into the Council at which time Mr. Clyde Crabtree presented cartoon slides to illustrate the proper modes of dress. The annual Christmas fashion show was presented by the Council in early December. Another project consisted of class breakfasts which were held in the cafeteria before school. The yearly Senior Tea was given by the junior representatives honoring all graduating girls. Girls' Council is also responsible for the Big Sister-Little Sister program.

Homecoming Was First Concern of Students' Governing Body

In its sixth year of existence, the student council of Palmetto continued its effective leadership, directing matters of school importance. Under the supervision of Mr. Leonard Glazer, director of student activities and Jeffrey Brookstone, student body president, problems of student government were brought closer to each individual student body member.

Six student council senators, elected at large from each grade level, represented their class on the council. A complete council was comprised of class presidents, and class board representatives, together with the student body officers. This year was especially characterized by transitions from old ideas to new actions. Many traditions have been broken but counterbalanced by new precedents. Through hours of planning, the student council sponsored its fourth annual Homecoming, which proved to be financially successful for the first time. The student council achieved its highest peak by publishing the Student Directory Handbook, and ICC bulletin.

ICC Organized Communication As Clubs United for 1964-65

The Interclub Council, this year, became a communicative organization whose purpose it was to keep the student body well informed of all extra-curricular activities. This function was performed through the use of two bulletin boards and the weekly "Interclub Council Bulletin."

Homecoming floats and skits were organized in advance to avoid a last-minute rush. Interclub Council provided prizes and recognition for the most outstanding entries in the Homecoming Festivities. Through the efforts of the representatives on the Council, more unity between clubs was possible.

Interclub Council President Steve Becker listened attentively to a Homecoming suggestion by one of the council members.

Outstanding Athletes Became Members of Lettermen's Club

With the avid support of the Boosters' Club and Coach Gene Gibson, sponsor, the boys of Lettermen's Club organized their first annual barbeque in the fall. Throughout the rest of the year the boys helped to promote school spirit and interest in all of Palmetto's activities. The only membership requirement was that each boy lettered in any official sport offered at PHS.

GSC Sports Service Program Snow Cone Sales Supply Money

Girls' Sports Club began the school year with a series of after-school snow cone sales to build up their treasury. Part of the funds were spent on a beach party for new members at Crandon Park. Christmas found GSC supplying food, clothing and toys to the needy in South Dade County. At Easter the girls sponsored an Easter egg hunt for orphan children at Merrie Christmas Park.

The highlight of the club's activities for the year was the annual weekend camping trip. The girls slept in pup tents and cooked over an open fire.

New members were taken in after every sport. An informal induction was held at the end of the year for all new members and new officers. Early in the year PHS was host for an all-county volleyball meet. GSC also sponsored all of Palmetto's girls' sports teams that participated in both the county and the state games.

FBLA Encouraged Interest In Business World Opportunities

In its fourth year, FBLA continued to strive for its goal of providing young adults with educational, vocational, and leadership experience that will be of value in the business world. All business students are eligible for membership in FBLA if they have a 2.0 average and are recommended by their teachers on their honesty, reliability, and citizenship.

Future Business Leaders participated in county workshops, special meetings with guest speakers, field trips, and state and national conventions.

Money-making projects for 1964-65 included several doughnut sales and a "Lick Gables" lollipop sale during the Panther football season. These projects made it possible for FBLA to send Palmetto delegates to the conventions. FBLA also gives an annual contribution to the Business Department for extra supplies and materials. Mrs. Venita Stith and Mrs. Louise Vanderman were sponsors.

Scott Askew gave Bonnie De Merritt one glazed doughnut from the box he bought at an FBLA doughnut sale.

FHA Cooks Up Service Projects For the Community and School

Future Homemakers of America, more popularly referred to as FHA, fulfilled a most eventful year under the guidance of sponsor Mrs. Jean Zook. The prerequisite for membership was each student had to study at least one year of Home Economics. During the course of 1964-65, a wide range of speakers addressed the club to provide a clearer understanding of many facets of Home Ec. Homecoming supplied an opportunity for industrious members to utilize their creative energies in preparation of an original float, an egg beater with the inscription "Beat the Rebels." FHA's theme for the year was community service. To follow through with their service goal, members sent a food basket to a needy family for Christmas. In addition, the club served refreshments at both PTA meetings and College Night. Fund raising was accomplished through many cookie and bake sales throughout the year.

Teaching Aspirants Assisted In Grading and Filing Papers

This past year FTA has worked to publicize effective new teaching methods and offer more services to the school. As a service, members help teachers and tutor students. Compiling the honor role for local newspapers was an added service. At meetings, programs were presented on independent study methods, the new alphabet, educational architecture, and problems in curriculum for those interested in the teaching profession.

FTA's biggest project was American Education Week. A kick-off tea was sponsored for the teachers. Speeches on various educational topics were given over the public address system daily. Bookmarks having this year's theme, "Education Pays Dividends," were donated to the library and posters decked halls and windows showing how education pays dividends.

A second tea before Christmas was given for the hard working teachers. Apples distributed to each teacher on Valentine's Day showed the members appreciation of the teachers.

'Safety First' Adopted as Paramedical's Motto for Year

The Paramedical Club of Palmetto Senior High School opened its second year at school with an induction for new members. Their doughnut sale was held during the month of December. The sale proved profitable for the club and it was well supported. Most of Paramedical's service was clearly seen around the school. First-aid boxes were supplied for every classroom in case of any emergency. A guidance booklet with information on all medical careers was completed by the active members of the Paramedical club.

The Medical Career's breakfast held in the school cafeteria, featured Dr. M. Snyder as guest speaker. His topic for discussion was careers in Public Health, Social Work and medicine.

Various conventions were attended throughout the year. Trips to Variety Children's Hospital, Jackson Memorial Hospital and Mount Sinai Hospital were informative and helpful in getting an idea of hospital life in practice.

Staff Spent Numerous Hours Creating the 1965 Yearbook

The yearbook staff headed this year by Editor-in-chief Marcia Orovitz and Managing Editor Barbara Walls found time to attend conventions and workshops in between meeting their four deadlines. Marcia, Barbara and Lee Pletts, sports editor, gave a panel discussion entitled "How to Get Along with Your Publisher" at the National Scholastic Press Association convention conducted in Chicago during the Thanksgiving holidays.

The staff attended Florida Scholastic Press Association's district meeting in Hollywood and the state convention in St. Petersburg in the Spring. Mrs. Mary Griffith, adviser, assisted the nine section editors and the photo co-ordinator in preparing the Palm Echo for publication in the middle of May.

Mr. Harrell Brooks of Foote and Davies Publishing Company helped the Palm Echo Staff with special problems and questions during his visits to P.H.S.

17 Issues Rolled Off Presses In Paper's Award Winning Year

Brad Miller, Photographer

The Panther staff published a record of 17 issues this year, thereby making the Panther a true bi-weekly paper. With the help of editors Merrie Blocker, Bethany Brown, Susan Reddaway, Bill VanSmith and advertising sales manager Ira Baron, the staff put out a special eight page brotherhood issue, plus two twelve page issues, and a farewell graduation special.

Staff members attended District and State meetings of the Florida Scholastic Press Association in Hollywood and St. Petersburg. They visited Coral Park High School for the Theta Sigma Phi-Sigma Delta Chi seminar. In February, Editor-in-Chief Merrie Blocker attended the Theta Sigma Phi scholarship luncheon with Palm Echo Editor Marcia Orovitz and journalism adviser Mrs. Mary Griffith.

With the help of Mrs. Griffith, the Panther strove this year to build up interest in the paper. Students were able to express their views through letters to the editor on a wide range of subjects from senior traditions to the Presidential election.

DAVE HALLSTRAND PLOWED EASILY THROUGH THE LINE. HE WAS PALMETTO'S LEADING SCORER.

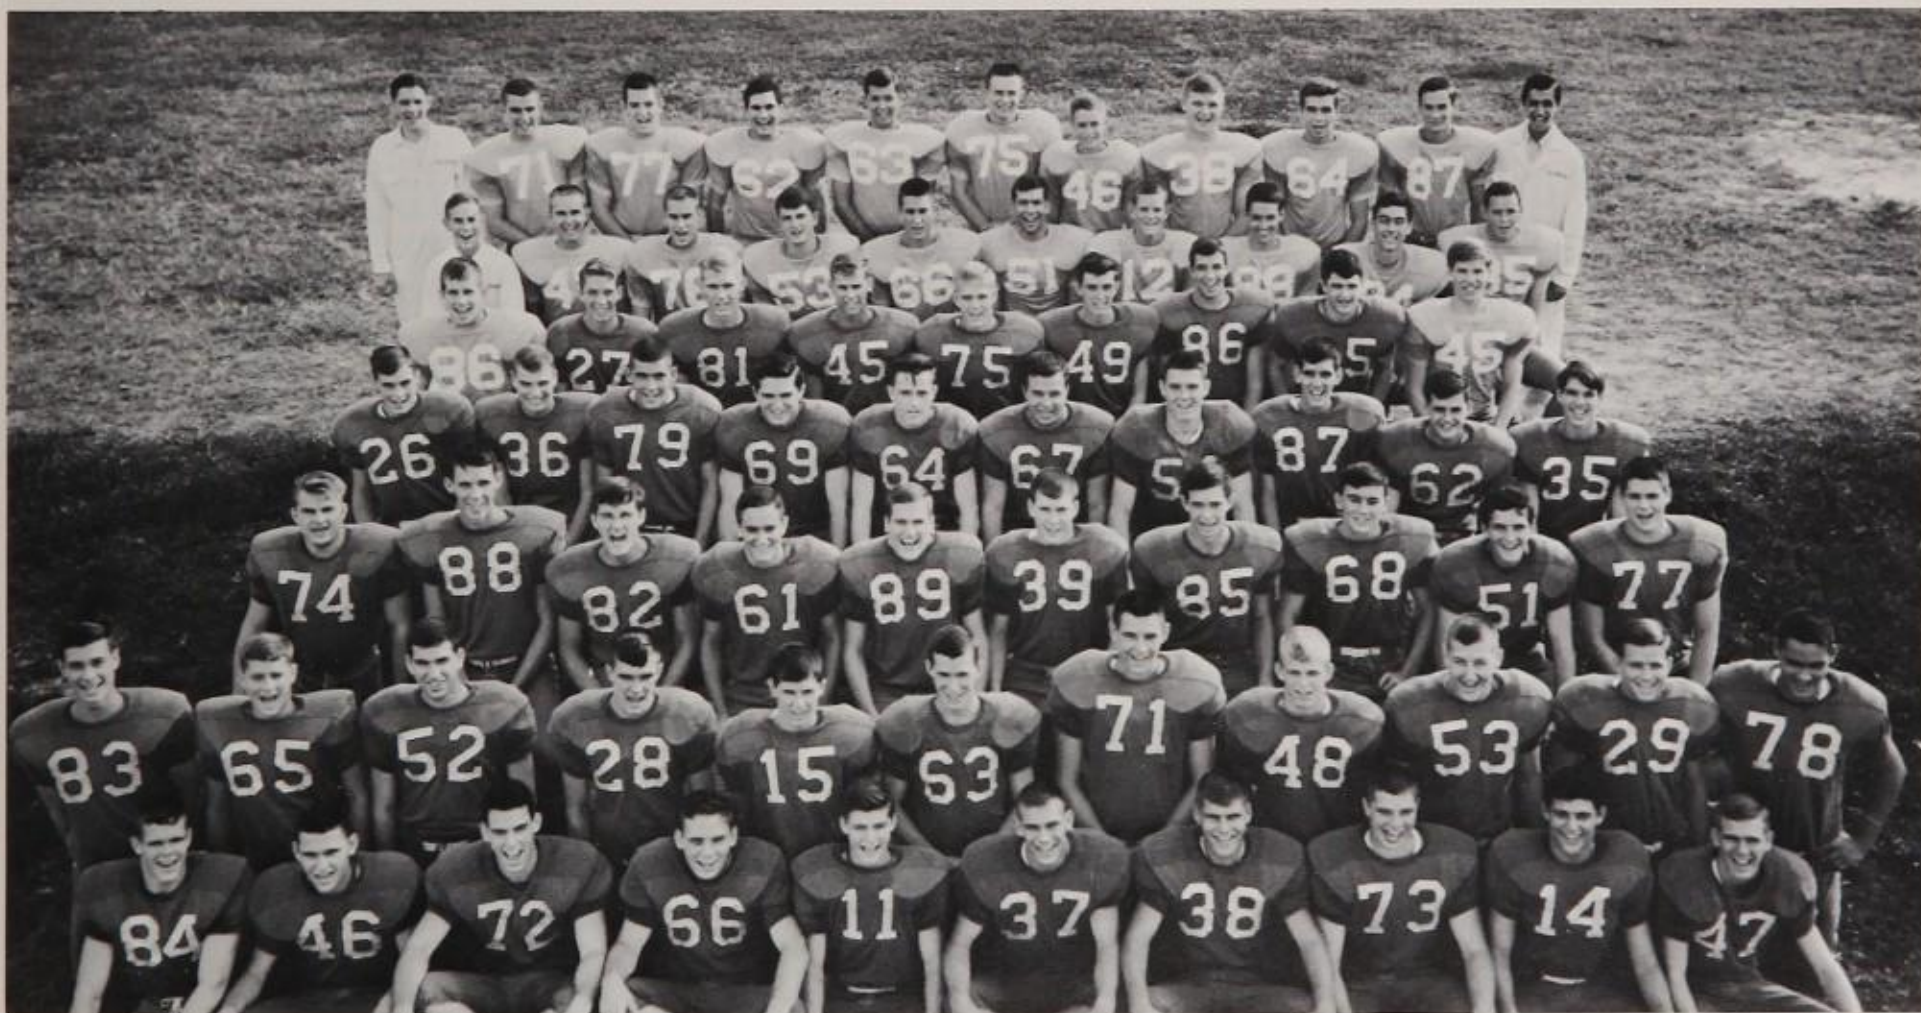

'Weak Club' Became Stronger As Winning Season Ended 7-3

The 1964 Palmetto High School football team posted the best record in the school's history as they marched to seven victories in ten games. Under the direction of head coach Gene Gibson and assistant coaches, John Patsy, Jesse Davis, Walt Chwalik, and Bonnie Yarbrough, the Panthers became a state power using what critics said would be a "weak club." As the season drew to a close Palmetto was caught in a confusing three way tie for the Gold Coast Conference's Southern Division championship. Only the heartbreaking loss in a flip of a coin kept the Panthers from adding another game to their schedule.

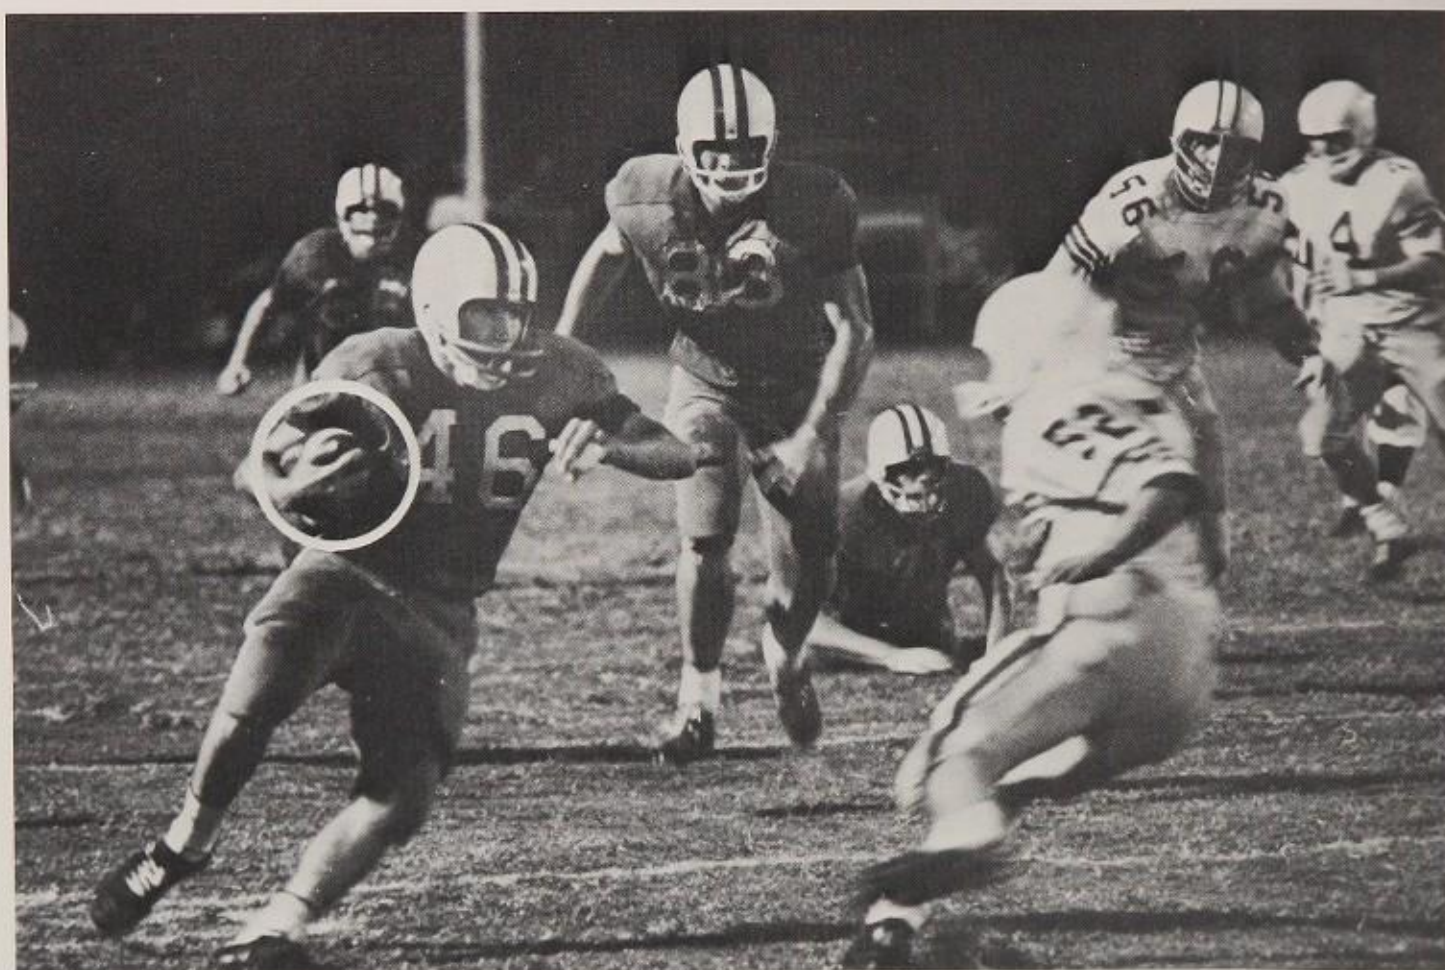

When the all-city teams were released the Panthers received just recognition for their efforts. Fullback Dave Hallstrand and end Art Dumford were named to the Miami Herald's first string unit while Mickey Bolin, Bob Henry and Jim Vosters were placed on the second strings. Receiving honorable mentions were quarterback Gary Wheaton and halfback Bruce Anderson. At the Booster's Club annual award banquet Gary Wheaton swept the honors by being named the team's captain for 1964 and receiving the Most Valuable Player trophy. Dave Hallstrand was named the Most Valuable Back of the year. Art Dumford and Bob Henry received the Most Valuable Lineman Awards.

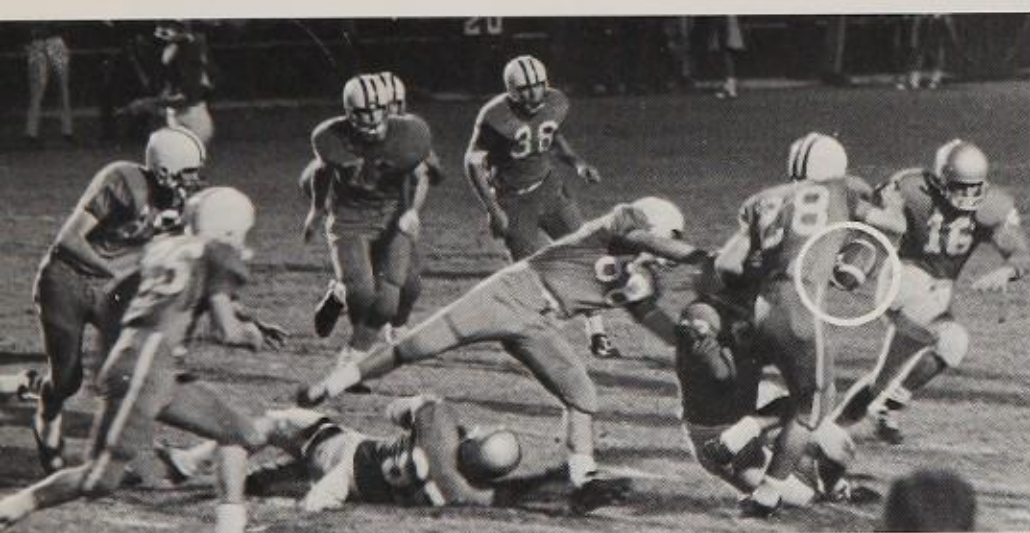

Head Coach Gene Gibson reviewed fine points with cornerback Rick Rose before sending him into the game. Rick also maintained a 37.3 punting average.

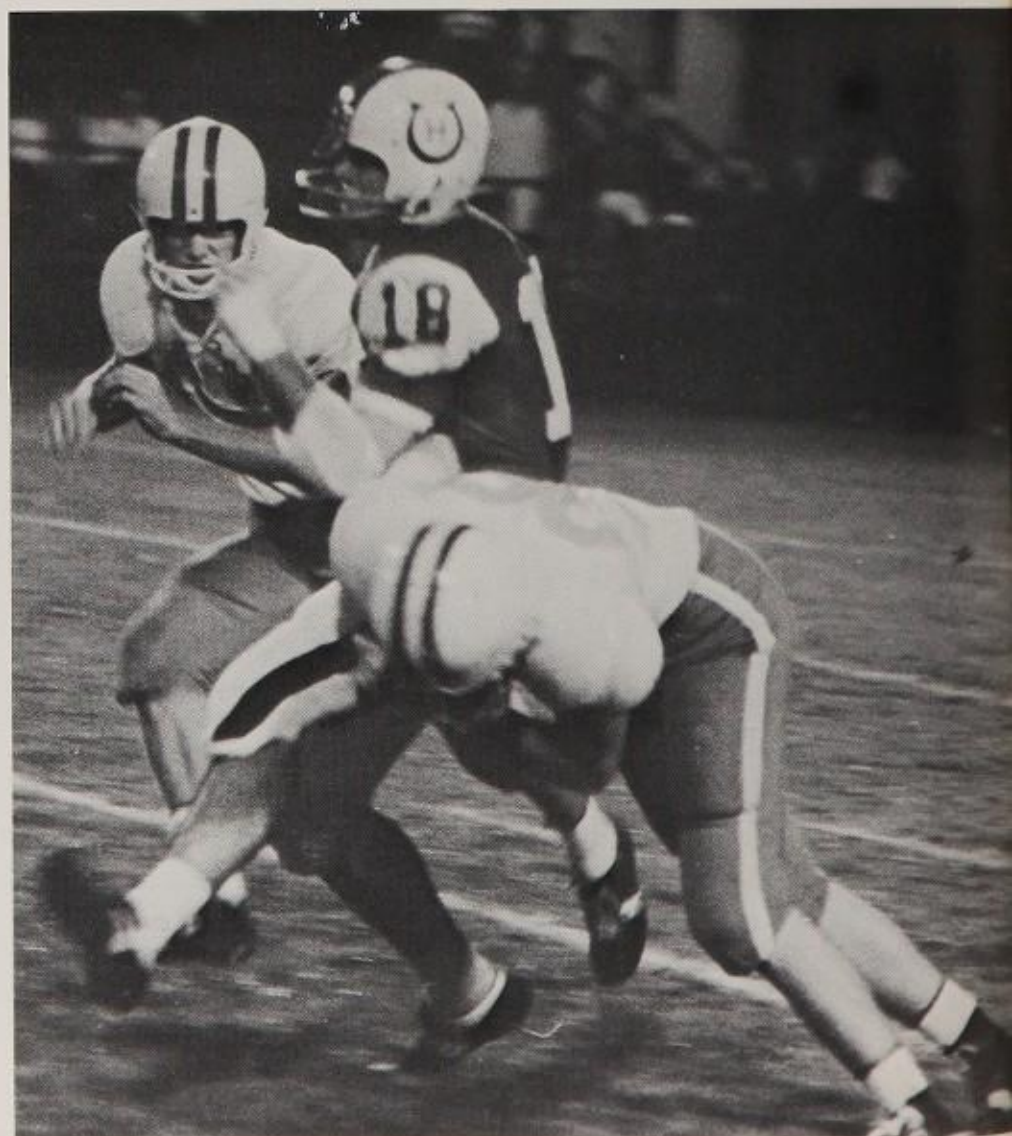

Members of the 1964 varsity squad were: bottom row, S. Askew, B. Andersen, R. Davis, M. Bolin, G. Wheaton, D. Hallstrand, J. Vosters, B. Henry, R. Rose, and Z. Edge; second row, A. Dumford, G. Wright, L. Berrin, B. Thomas, S. Tucker, L. True, T. Wells, R. Allen, D. Martin, R. Heacock, and L. McNeil; third row, R. Whatley, C. Jenkins, D. Russell, G. Rowley, D. Barber, P. Lynd, E. Oltz, B. Lyden, J. Tolar, and S. Connell; fourth row, L. Kaufmann, D. Waddell, B. Davis, B. R. Pearson, M. Gleman, J. Vick, F. Theil, D. Boothe, S. Carslyle, and T. Jones; fifth row, T. Stone, J. Parnin, D. Taylor, D. McCormick, D. Corbett, D. Simpson, J. Brack, C. Murdock, and J. Avary; sixth row, manager J. Scanlon, R. Freeman, R. DelGreco, S. VanTress, B. Gates, and manager Paul Sutta.

THREE YEAR LETTERMAN BRUCE ANDERSEN CHARGED THROUGH THE GREEN TIDE WITH SPEED AND AGILITY.

Half of the Panther defense moved after Coral Gables halfback Phil Tracy. Bob Thomas and Charlie Murdock made the stop from the secondary.

Juniors Don McCormick and Dave Waddell tackled a Thoroughbred in the depressing rain. Don made a crucial South Dade tackle which gave Palmetto that game.

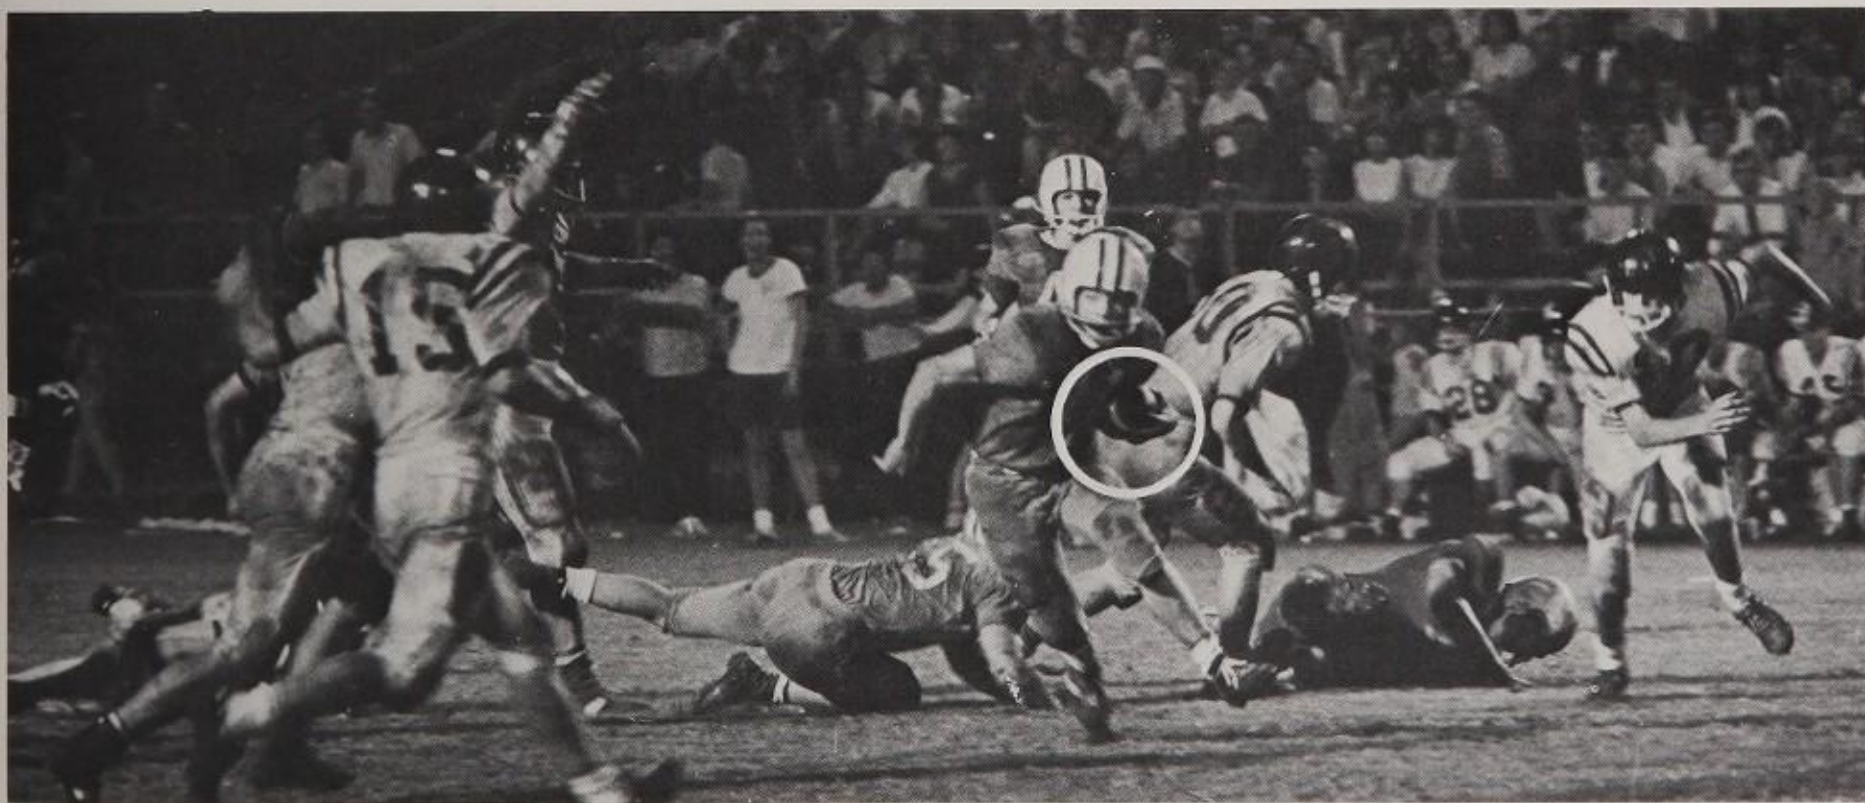

Palmetto's stick-man watched the sad game with hope but the Panthers didn't pass his yard line.

Panther Team's Record Seemed Only Mediocre During October

In the first three games of the season the Panthers surprised nearly everyone as they showed team balance and poise in sweeping to victories over Curley, Ft. Myers and Southwest. In their opener a nervous Panther squad capitalized on second mistakes by their opponent to turn the contest into a 27-6 rout. Taking to the road for their next encounter Palmetto had a tough time in defeating an upstart Ft. Myers squad in the last five minutes of play. Led by guard Don Miller's score from a blocked punt, near the end of the first half, the Panthers proved their state ranking of number seven by defeating Southwest by a score 19-17.

Riding high on the crest of their winning streak and lofty state ranking the Panthers got into the heart of their schedule where they had to meet four of the state's top ten teams in a row. Plagued by injuries Palmetto went into a disastrous three game slump which saw them lose to Norland, Coral Gables, and Hialeah. The Panthers first loss came at the hands of Norland when the Vikings upset Palmetto 14-7. In a game of bitter rivalry Gables quarterback Larry Rentz provided the momentum as the Cavaliers pounded out a 27-0 victory over the Panthers. Palmetto's most humiliating loss of the year was yet to come as Hialeah defeated the Panthers by a victory of 27-6.

QUARTERBACK GARY WHEATON SWEEP LEFT ON THE OPTION PLAY. HIS RUNNING AND PASSING NETTED OVER 1,000 YARDS FOR PALMETTO.

READY TO FIGHT AT A SECOND'S NOTICE, PALMETTO'S RESERVES SAT ON THE BENCH WAITING TO BE CALLED BY THE COACH.

Panther defensive end Dave Russell closed in to tackle Columbus quarterback Lewis Pytel. While playing offensive end, Dave caught sixteen passes and returned several kick-offs.

After playing two years as fullback, senior Jim Vosters finished this season as defensive end. He earned a Wake Forest scholarship.

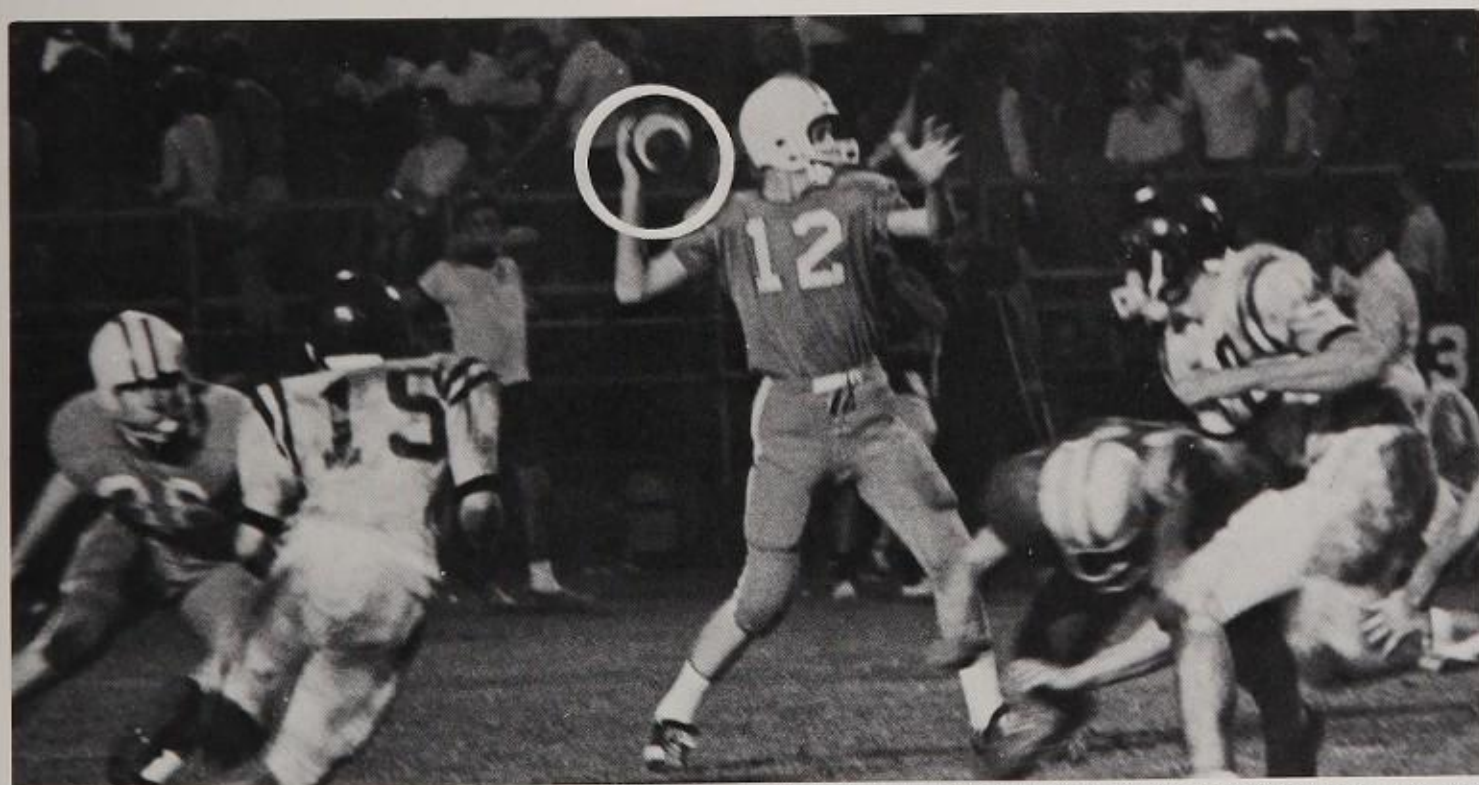

'Great Team Effort' Defeated State's Top Team, Miami High

With only a 3-3 record the Panthers were discarded as a team amounting to any real consequence. Practically everyone agreed that the state's number one team, Miami High, could run up any score they wanted to in preparing for their "battle of the undefeated" with Coral Gables. That is everyone except the Panther football squad who went out and ran right through the powerful Stings in posting a 14-13 upset of the prep football year. Never to be forgotten is the play of Wheaton, Hallstrand, Bolin, and Henry who paved the way for the win behind what coach Gibson called a "great team effort." The next day headlines screamed out with the news "Number One MHS Upset by PHS." With victory came the pandemonium. The students didn't stop celebrating till Monday when a special victory edition of "The Panther" came out.

After their spectacular win the Panthers had to settle down and win their remaining three games to build up their prestige and stay in the race for the Gold Coast Conference Championship. The Panthers held off a fourth quarter rally to top Columbus 18-12 and then traveled to Key West where they posted a 21-7 win. Homecoming saw Palmetto face traditional rival South Dade and the Panthers proved victorious 7-0 with a stiff defense leading the way. That proved to be the Panthers last game and they were ranked fourteenth in a state wide poll.

Coach Gene Gibson sent in wild card halfback Charlie Murdock with a crucial third down offensive play at the Southwest game.

JUNIOR QUARTERBACK CHARLES RICHARDS TOSSED A PASS WHILE THE DEFENSE WAS TEMPORARILY FROZEN.

RON HEACOCK AND STEVE TUCKER MOVED IN DEFENSIVELY AFTER A CURLEY FUMBLE.

The Coral Gables-Palmetto game found Gary Wheaton on the sidelines observing the hard fought defeat.

NOT LONG AFTER RECOVERING A FUMBLE, CHARLIE MURDOCK STOOD BY AS DAVE HALLSTRAND SCORED ON A FOUR YARD RUN.

Joe Still brought down an Explorer with a determined tackle, but the baby Panthers lost a hard fought game.

'Baby Panthers' Prepared for Varsity and Posted 3-3 Record

The 1964 JV football team came on strong towards the end of their season to post a 3-3 record. After losing three of their first four encounters the Panthers beat two top rivals, Coral Gables and South Dade.

Under the directions of coaches Dave Camper, Dale Collins, Jeff Klores, Sam Scheltzer, and Errol Seegers, the Panthers kept improving. Leading the baby Panthers were backs Sam Beard, Rocky Doddridge, David Mosure and George Parsells. Outstanding linemen were end Pat Martin and tackle Don Dobbins.

In the season opener the baby Panthers were humiliated by Miami Springs 27-0 after going into the halftime deadlocked in a scoreless tie. Palmetto was defeated 12-7 when Miami Jackson edged them in a defensive stand.

The Panthers finally received a long awaited victory when they blanked out neighborhood rival Southwest by a score of 12-0. On October 21, Columbus eeked out a 13-7 victory over Palmetto. After this the Junior Varsity rebounded to post a 14-12 victory over the Coral Gables Junior Varsity and a 5-0 spanking of South Dade. The victory over Gables was the first in the school's history.

Injury Prone Basketball Team Marched to District 16AA Finals

The Palmetto High School basketball team completed its 1965 season by posting 13 victories against 12 defeats. Under the direction of Coach Dale Collins, the Panthers got off to a fast start, winning four of their first five games, with the only loss coming from the Hi-Tides of Miami Beach. As the season continued, injuries weakened the squad. At the center position, Palmetto lost the services of two top players in pivot man Jim Willis and Art Dumford. As the year came to a close the squad was finally back in full strength for the first time all year.

In the Group 16AA Tournament, the Panthers received a bye in the first round and then romped over Southwest in the semifinals. It was all to no avail, however, as tournament favorite, Columbus, upheld a stingy zone defense to oust Palmetto in the finals.

It was the first time in the school's history that the use of a run and shoot fast break offense was used instead of the usual slow deliberate type of play. Leading scorers on the squad were Bill Garcia, Mark Walker and Garry Wheaton. Averages saw Alan Hindman lead the way with a 13.0 overall.

High scorer on the Panther basketball team, Bill Garcia, sank a basket from the corner.

Art Dumford successfully stopped Key West from scoring during the final seconds of the game. His defense and guarding efforts were a great asset to the team.

It was hard to guard against Ray Robinson's fast but accurate jump shots.

Head Coach Dale Collins explained a difficult play during a half-time which would yield a sure basket.

A Miami Beach Hi-Tide moved in to attempt a block as senior guard Mark Walker concentrated on a fast scoring under-handed jump shot.

Panther Clark Beggs leaped high to turn a jump-ball into Palmetto's advantage while Mark Walker waited to assist him.

STAR CAGER BILL GARCIA RUSHED IN AND JUMPED HIGH FOR A BASKET AT THE CORAL PARK GAME.

Dennis Boothe found his height an asset when trying shots from outside the key.

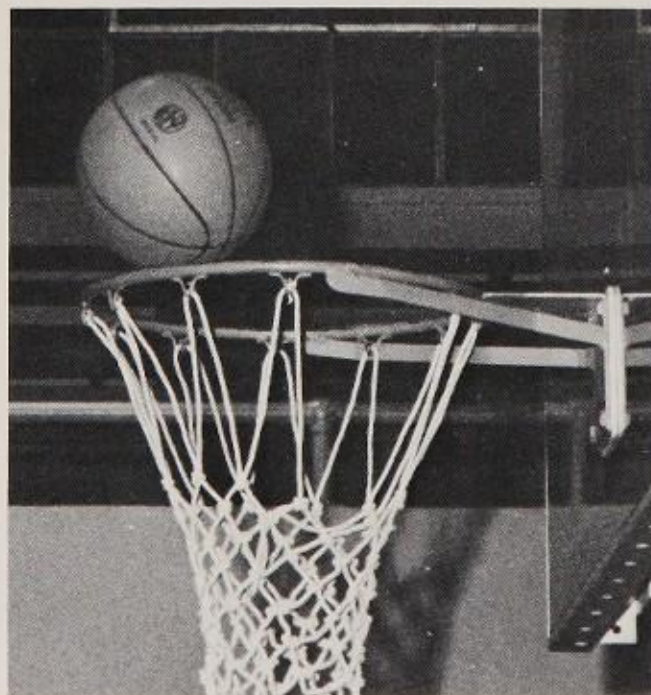

Senior guard Garry Wheaton's quick maneuvering, driving persistence and sharp eye, kept the ball from eager opponents, stabilized team spirit.

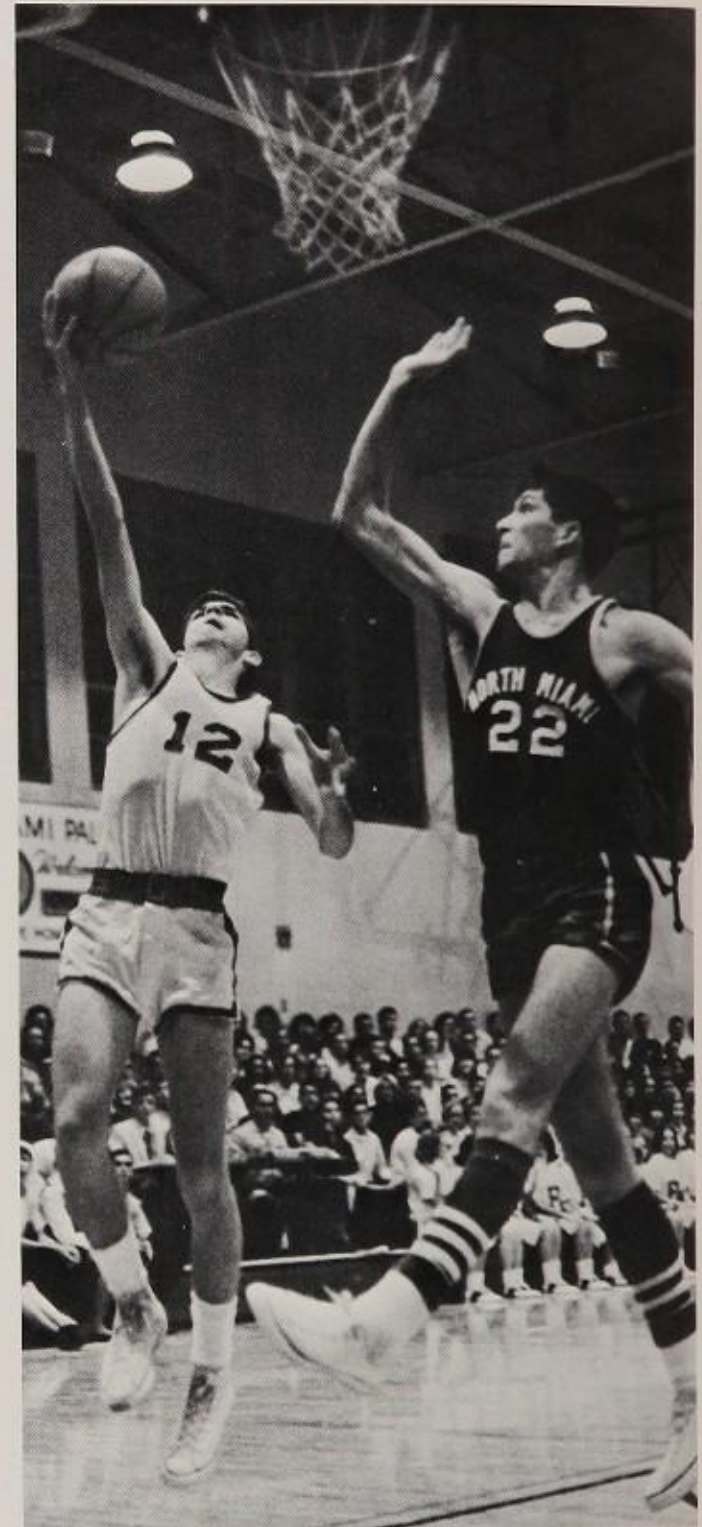

THE PALMETTO BASKETBALL TEAM JOINED IN THE TRADITIONAL HAND CLASP BEFORE EVERY GAME.

Senior forward Art Dumford showed his feeling of disgust after he sprained his left ankle in the third quarter of the Coral Gables game. Leg injuries were common among Panther cagers.

Precision accuracy and a fraction of an inch made the vital difference between two points and an "attempt."

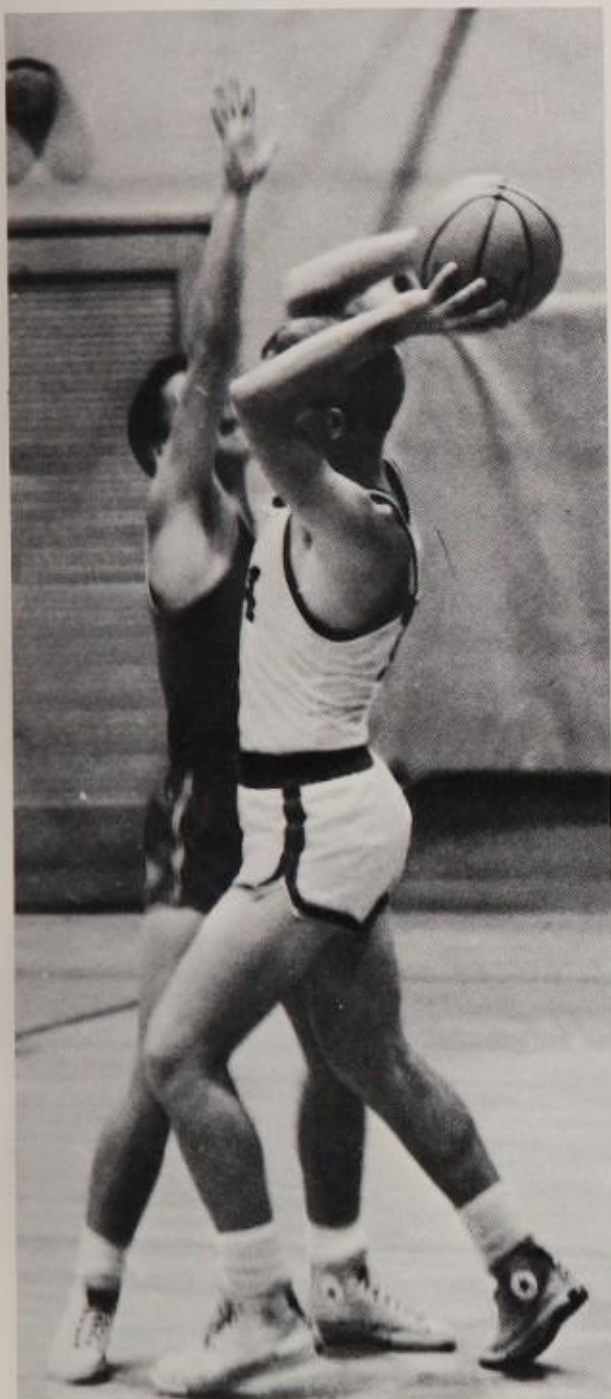

Junior guard Bob Orr gained experience during basketball season and improved and prepared for next year's play.

JV Basketball Team Dribbled To 14 Victories in 21 Clashes

The year 1965 was the season Palmetto came alive in junior varsity basketball. The Baby Panthers posted the best record in junior varsity competition in the school's history. The cagers plowed through a bulky schedule enroute to a 14-7 record.

During the season, the Baby Panthers put together win streaks of five and three games in a row. It was also a year of change for the Panthers. Most notable of the changes was Coach Dave Camper, a new member of the staff. Under his direction the squad was drilled into a smooth, efficient unit.

Key to the successful season was a high scoring fast break offense combined with a stingy defense. Six foot two inch sophomore center Pat Martin did the bulk of the rebounding and stood out in overall scoring. Towards the end of the season, Pat moved up the varsity to gain experience for next year.

At a home game, Tom Sass employed quick reflexes as he sprang back to hurdle the ball to a receiver.

PAT MARTIN'S DEFENSIVE MANEUVERS PREVENTED THE OPPOSITION FROM SCORING A BASKET.

Bruce Huff, pitcher, waited for the catcher's important signal.

The outfielders were first row, Mel Berkowitz, Lloyd Sandidge, and Larry Sweat; second row, Charlie Richards, Alan Hindman, and Harry Steinberg.

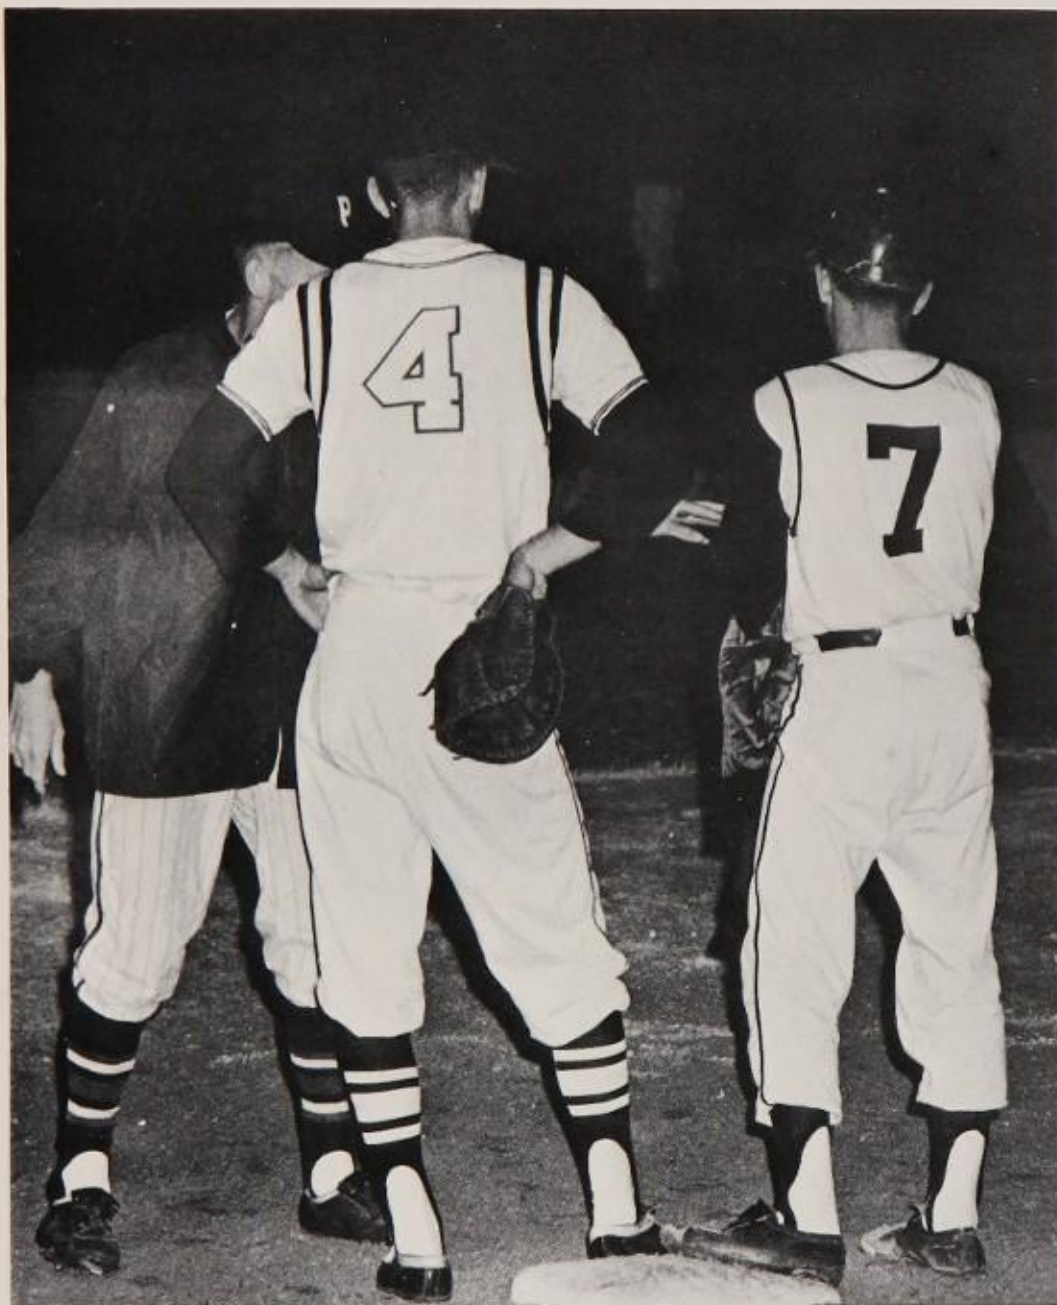

Panther Baseball Squad Faced Conference With Determination

Baseball at Palmetto in 1965 saw the diamond nine tackle a seventeen game schedule. The Panthers came under the direction of Coach Walt Chwalik with the aid of assistant Coach Barry Zimble. The Panthers found themselves weak in pitching depth, but found the extra boost needed in hitting power.

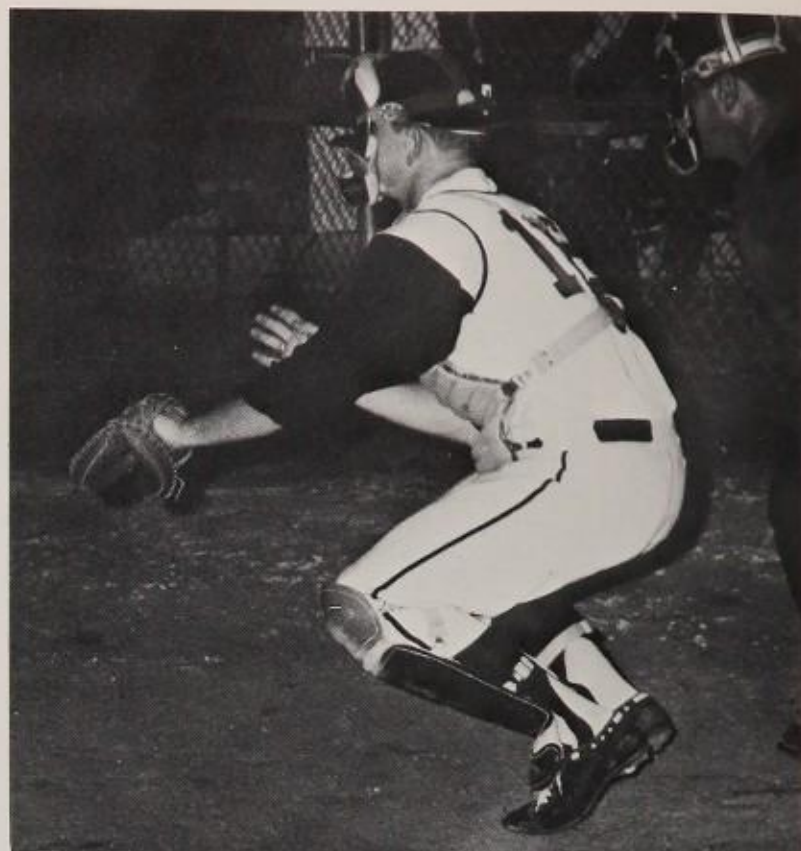

Starters in the Palmetto lineup were right fielders Garry Wheaton and Alan Hindman, center fielder Larry Sweat, left fielder Dave Hallstrand, catcher Randy Jones, first baseman Mike McDonald, second baseman Bobby Orr, shortstop Euelio Yedo, and third baseman Dick Metzler. The pitching department included standouts in Billy Hagwood and Alan Horn. Backing up these two were Don Hagan, Booty Jenkins and Terry Jones. The Panther outfield included all of the power hitting while the infield provided a balance of fielding and hitting.

PITCHER WILLIAM HAGWOOD PUT ALL OF HIS STRENGTH INTO HIS NOTORIOUS KNUCKLE BALL.

Danny English handed a pitching jacket to senior Bill Hagwood after Bill successfully made it to first base during the game between the Edison Red Raiders on our home field.

After a hit to the infield, catcher Randy Jones quickly moved in to cover home plate as a Curley player threatened to score a needed run.

Left fielder Dave Hallstrand raced towards first base after he hit a hard ball to the Columbus infield. The empire called David "out."

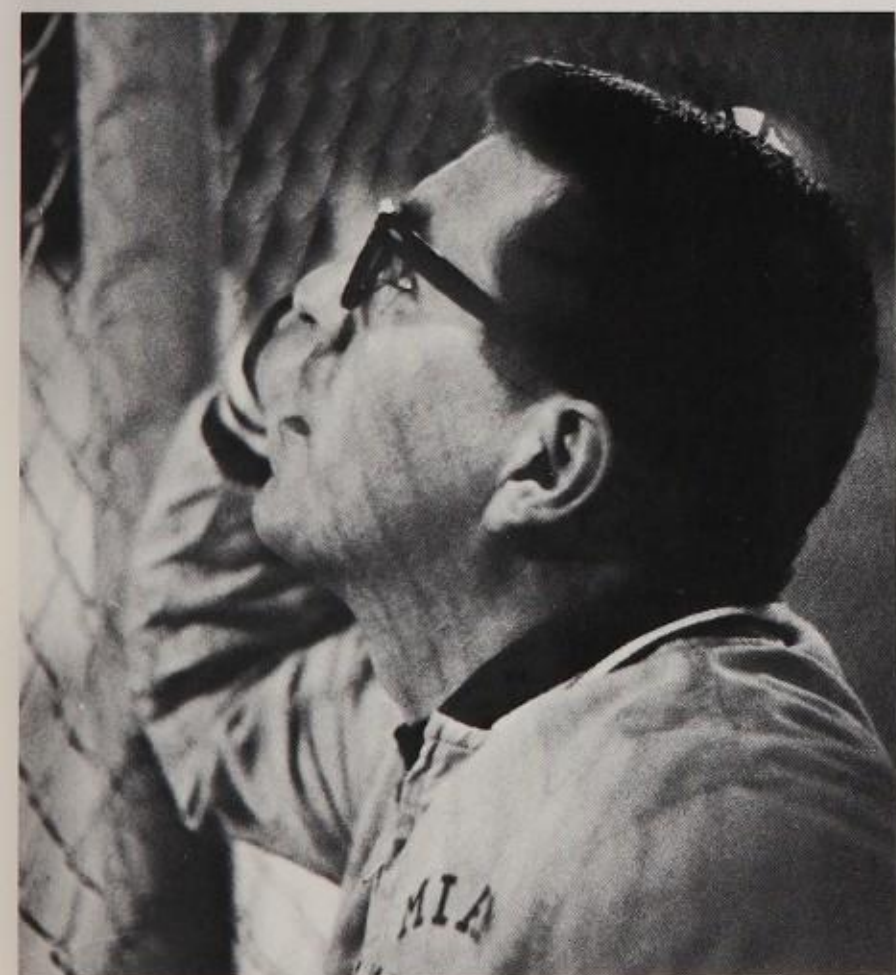

THE PALMETTO PANTHER BASEBALL TEAM PLAYED MOST OF THEIR NIGHT GAMES AT SUNILAND RECREATION CENTER.

Second baseman Bobby Orr, searched for his equipment before going into the infield to defend Palmetto's lead.

Infielders were first row, Dick Metzler, John Shultz, Garry Wheaton, and Randy Jones; second row, Dick Calabro, Dave Waddel, Euelio Yedo, Dan English, Bruce Fisher and Dave Hallstrand.

Assistant Coach Barry Zimblar, intensely watched the scoreboard change as Southwest came in for their eighth run at PHS' home field, Suniland Park.

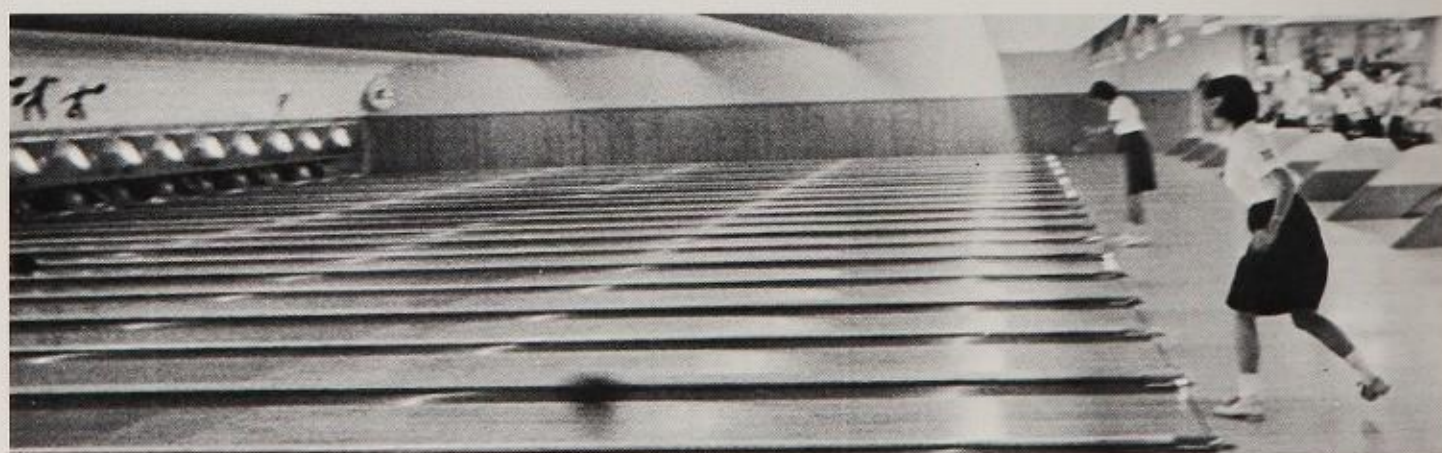

Garry Wheaton singled to left bringing in Bobby Orr in PHS' opener with Columbus. The Panthers went on to win a 4-1 victory over the Explorers.

Mr. Winston Clarke and Miss Linda Mayer were coaches of Palmetto's boys' and girls' bowling teams, respectively.

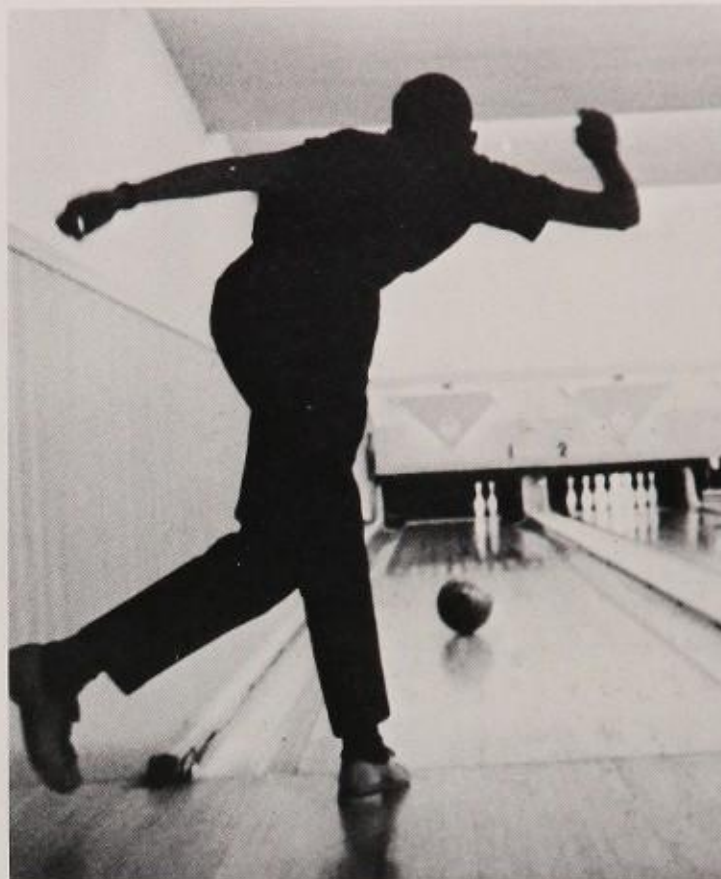

BY ATTENDING REGULAR BOWLING PRACTICES, JUNIOR CHRIS JENSEN WAS ABLE TO IMPROVE HER FORM.

Panthers Bowled Their Way To Southern District Championship

Helping the Panthers to their victorious season this year, were Coaches Linda Mayer and Winston Clarke who advised the team during practice sessions at South Dixie Bowl-O-Mat Lanes. This year the county was divided into three sections instead of just Northern and Southern as in the past. Palmetto's team played in matches against Southern District teams Coral Gables, Southwest, Immaculata, Lourdes, Columbus, and South Dade. Elected officials for the team were captains Alyse DuBrucq and Randy Shoemaker and co-captains Bonnie Stewart and Dave Bethea.

The girls' team lost both matches against Coral Gables, but a strong finish with six shutouts in the last seven bouts made the Girls Southern District Champions. They participated in a round-robin roll-off among winners of the districts for the county championship.

The bowling team required each member to display good timing, and emphasized the value of rythmical precision.

Girls' Sports Teams Won Places In Four Inter-Mural Encounters

The girls' sports team began their sportsday tournaments on October 23, with volleyball. The 'A' team was able to defeat all but Miami High, who took first place, as Palmetto took second position. Led by captains Donna Prater and Linda Walker the 'A' team went to county where they suffered two defeats in a row.

The girls' track team was able to cop second place in the district meet at Coral Gables on December 18. The girls competed in seven events. Mary Cruit and Pat McCarty managed the teams. Soccer ball thrower Linda McCandliss, placed high enough in the district meet to go to the county meet.

'A' and 'B' basketball teams were undefeated to take home both of the first place plaques. Joanne Dumford tied for second place in the free throws contest with 16 out of 25. High scorers for the day were Linda Walker and Joanne Dumford.

Palmetto's softball team finished second in the March sportsday. After posting victories over South Dade, Mays and Coral Park, the girls were in a sudden death playoff for first place. Hialeah scored one run in the first inning and won the tournament.

Marilyn Hunley set the ball up to fellow players during a Sports Day at Palmetto.

Faye Lance and Charlotte Cruit represented P.H.S. in the 50 yard dash at the track sports day. As part of the relay team, Faye qualified for the county meet.

'B' team basketballers were first row, M. Murray, B. Maxwell, M. Hundley*, J. Dumford*, J. Dumford, and Kathy Reubert; second row, C. Cruit*, B. Moore*, C. Mulane, M. Cruit, and C. Michel.

The members of the 1965 varsity golf team were Michael Mees, Joseph Still, Steven Steinberg, Thomas Wells, Robin Frank and Michael Miller. Standing in back of the team members is Coach Sam Scheltzer.

Golf Team Hit Off To One Of PHS' Most Successful Seasons

Led by Coach Sam Scheltzer the 1965 golf team won eight of twelve regular bouts. Four players participated in each match. Each player who beat his opponent received a point and the team with the lower total score received an extra point.

The top two teams with the lowest number of total strokes in the district went to state. The individual with the lowest score also went to state. The Palmetto golf team participated in the group tournament and the Gold Coast tournament. Gaining his experience through practice at the teams home course, Palmetto Country Club, John Hacker was the team's most outstanding player. He was medalist in most of the matches and the number one player for most of the season.

Senior Tom Wells practiced his driving at Palmetto Country Club. Tom's past experience was beneficial to the golf team this year.

Mike Mees of Palmetto lined up and sank a tricky putt at Palmetto Country Club. Shots like this paved the way for Palmetto's most successful season in the school's history.

Larry Seitlin was the team's star swimmer for the individual medly.

Coach Errol Seegars romped with the team at practice. Coach Seegars was first swimming director to join in daily pool practice.

PHS Swimming Teams Stroked Their Way to a Victorious Year

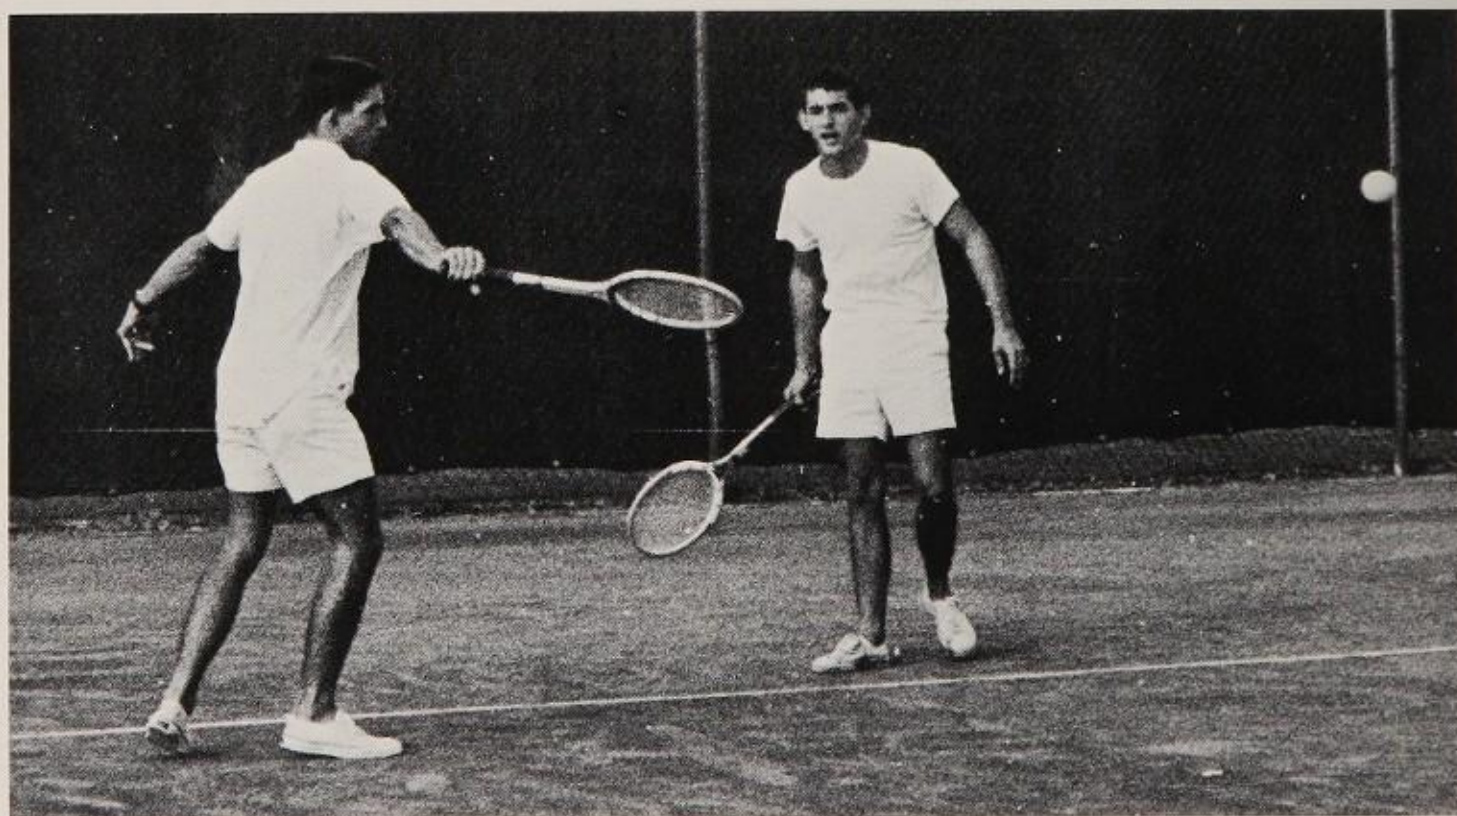

Palmetto's swimming team started its season this year with a tremendous victory over Coral Park. Lead by this year's new coach Errol Seegars, Palmetto practiced at the heated Sheeler-Winton Swim Gym in Perrine. This pool was donated by Mr. Al Sheeler, due to his keen interest in swimming.

The team consisted of 36 students including divers Kerry Bradford, Jay Gottschald, George Miller and Ethel Kirchner. Besides its regular intramural meet schedule the Panthers swam in the Woodson Invitational, the Gold Coast Conference, Dade County Championships District #7 and the State Championships in Tallahassee. Individuals swam in the categories of fly, backstroke, freestyle and the breast stroke. This year's captains were Ken Calender and Janet Alexander. Next year's teams should be successful as there will be 24 returning sophomores and juniors who will have had previous swimming experience.

JUNIOR TENNIS TEAM MEMBERS BRUCE MILLER AND BRAD MILLER PRACTICED TEAMWORK IN DOUBLES.

Gay Garrison played the net while practicing at Royal Palm Tennis Club.

Four Additional Girls' Teams Stiffened Tennis Competition

This year's boys' tennis team had a winning season. The girls tackled the largest season since Palmetto opened. This year they challenged four new teams, Miami Springs, Coral Park, Miami Beach and South Dade. Gay Garrison was the only girl who had previously lettered. The boys had five returning lettermen. Advising the teams was Coach Russ High.

Palmetto's team participated in the group 7 district tournament. The top three boys' teams and the top two girls' teams qualified for the championship in Gainesville in April. Also going to state were the top individual single champion and doubles champions. The Panthers also participated in the Gold Coast Conference Tournament. The boys played at David Park while the girls played at Salvadore Park. Gay Garrison was unanimously chosen captain of the girls team. She played the number one singles and doubles all of the 1965 season.

Tennis team members were first row, Allison Howard; Lee Pletts, Gay Garrison, Sunny Fluharty; second row, Jean Powers and Lynn McLamore. The team improved with experience.

Pole vaulters Steve Owens and Robert McElheny contributed to the track teams success by winning several times in Dade county contests.

A Panther high jumper attempted a score for Palmetto. Agility, elasticity and co-ordination were needed for high jumping.

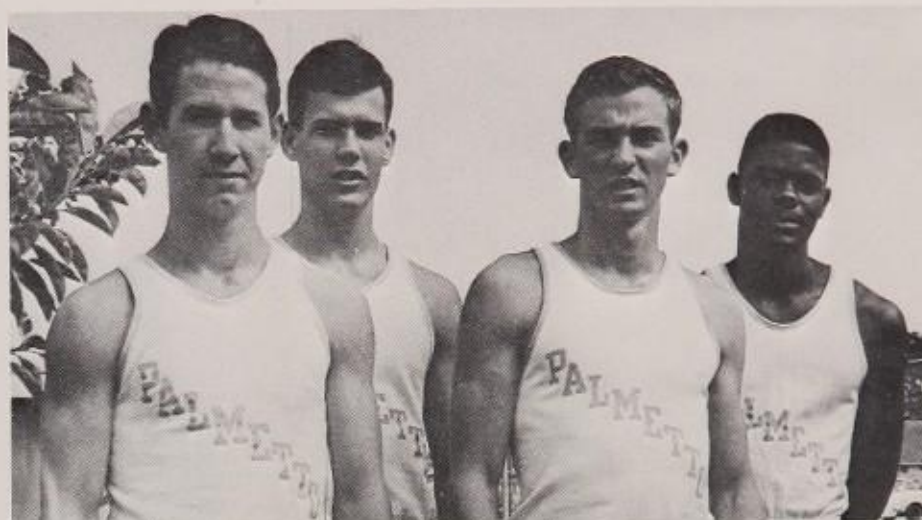

Hugh Penn, Lane Kaufman and Steve Owens were discus throwers. They placed first in the Coral Gables meet and conquered fourth in the Southwest meet.

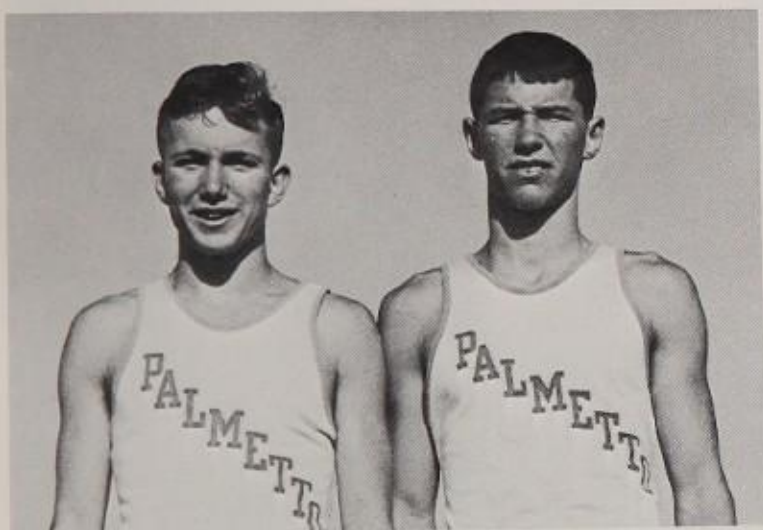

Palmetto Track Team Members Finished As Gold Coast Champs

Coach John Patsy headed the 1965 varsity track and field team. In the pole vault it was powerful one-two punch of Steve Owens and Bob McElheny. Besides being the state champion in the pole vaulting, Steve Owens also participated in the high jump, broad jump, discus and the shot put. Distance events such as the mile and half mile were led by distance captain Gary Barker, whom Coach Patsy rated as "being one of the best in the city."

For the sprints, the Panthers received a pleasant surprise in the form of speedy Clarence Dukes, backed by Don Billet. These two also combined to give an added punch to the Panther relay team. The weight events came under the direction of Coach Jesse Davis. In the discus and shot put Lane Kaufman provided points to the team. As the season progressed the Panthers gained strength in several events. This paid off in the Gold Coast Championship. Palmetto won first place with 44½ points. Steve Owens and Bill Brant took firsts in the pole vault and 220-yard dash.

Jim Kemp, Tom Hutchins, Don Billett and Clarence Dukes were the members of 1965 relay team. Unfortunately they dropped baton in their first meet.

Ben Johnson and Steve Tucker were the track team hurdlers in 1965. Ben's experience will be an asset next year.

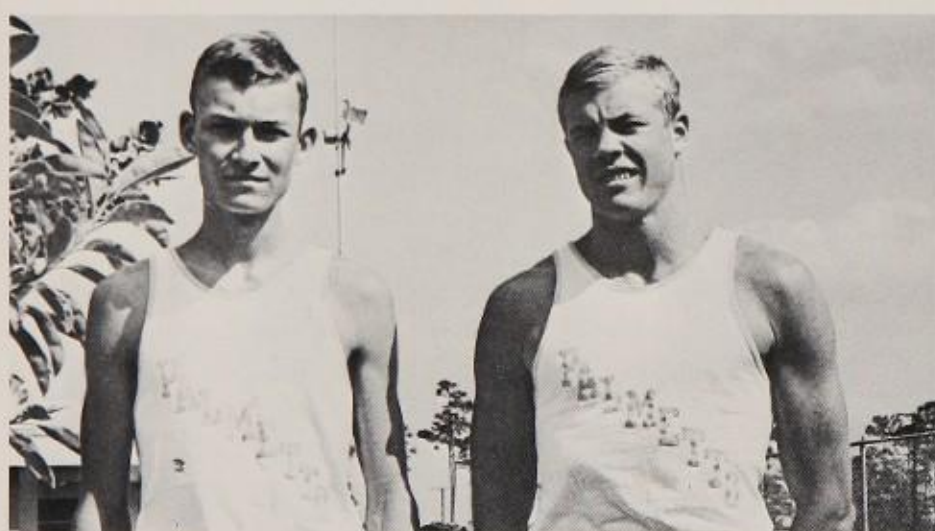

Art Dumford and Mike Gray were Palmetto's 1965 high jumpers. With a sprained ankle Art placed third in the 5'8" for the Panthers at the Coral Gables meet.

Peter Howard won the quarter mile in the Coral Gables meet. He also won the 880 for the Panthers.

BRUCE ANDERSON, BILL VANDERBROOK AND TOM LANIER WERE THE HALF MILERS.

Richard Batura and Pete Howard ran the quarter mile for the Panther's track team in 1965. This event required the runner to show both speed and endurance.

Zack Edge and Cliff Kunde, members of the Panther's team, made the running of the quarter mile their specialty this season.

Pole vaulter Robert McElheny scored points for Palmetto as he lifted himself over, clearing the bar at the Coral Gables meet.

Steve Owens waited to pole vault for the Panthers.

Bill Vanderbrook broke the string in the half mile for a blue and white score at the Coral Gables meet.

Clarence Dukes and Don Billet ran 100 yard dash and 220 yard sprint for the Panther's 1965 track season.

Bill Brown and Bill Brant were Palmetto's sprinters in 1965. Sprinters were required to exert a concentration of energy for a short distance.

John Hunt, George Rowley, Gary Barker, Eric Lindblom and Dick Carner ran the mile for Palmetto. The mile run asked the runners for endurance and breathing control.

Larry Wheaton took down to the mat his opponent from Miami Central. He pinned his man to get five points towards victory.

Two year letterman Tod Connolly, became victorious when he pinned down his opponent from Central High. They wrestled in the 120 pound weight class.

Coach Jesse Davis

Panther Jim Fluharty prepared to execute the initial fall at practice. He came in third in the state tournament and finished as the highest representative from Palmetto High.

Wrestling Team Ended Season Posting Two Winning Matches

The Palmetto High School wrestling team suffered the worst season in the school's history when they posted a 2-6 regular game record. The inexperienced grapplers came close to pulling off a big upset in their first meet when they were barely edged out by defending state champions Coral Gables, 33-36. After the impressive start the Panthers went into a slump which saw them lose four meets in a row to Hialeah, McArthur, South Broward and Coral Park. At the tail end of the season the squad had picked up more experience and skill. After gaining two early victories over Southwest and Miami Central the Panthers were defeated by Archbishop Curley in the victor's gym.

Wrestling is one of the newer varsity sports at Palmetto. Coach Jesse Davis has handled the coaching duties since the initial 1963 season. Although this season was a dismal one there were certain individual bright spots. Among these were Bob Tompkins, Larry Wheaton, Steve Tucker, Bruce Mahaffey and Bob Henry. The Panthers should be improved next year with an abundance of sophomores and juniors returning from this year's squad.

BOB TOMPKINS PINNED HIS OPPONENT FROM MIAMI CENTRAL TO LEAD PALMETTO TO ITS SECOND WIN.

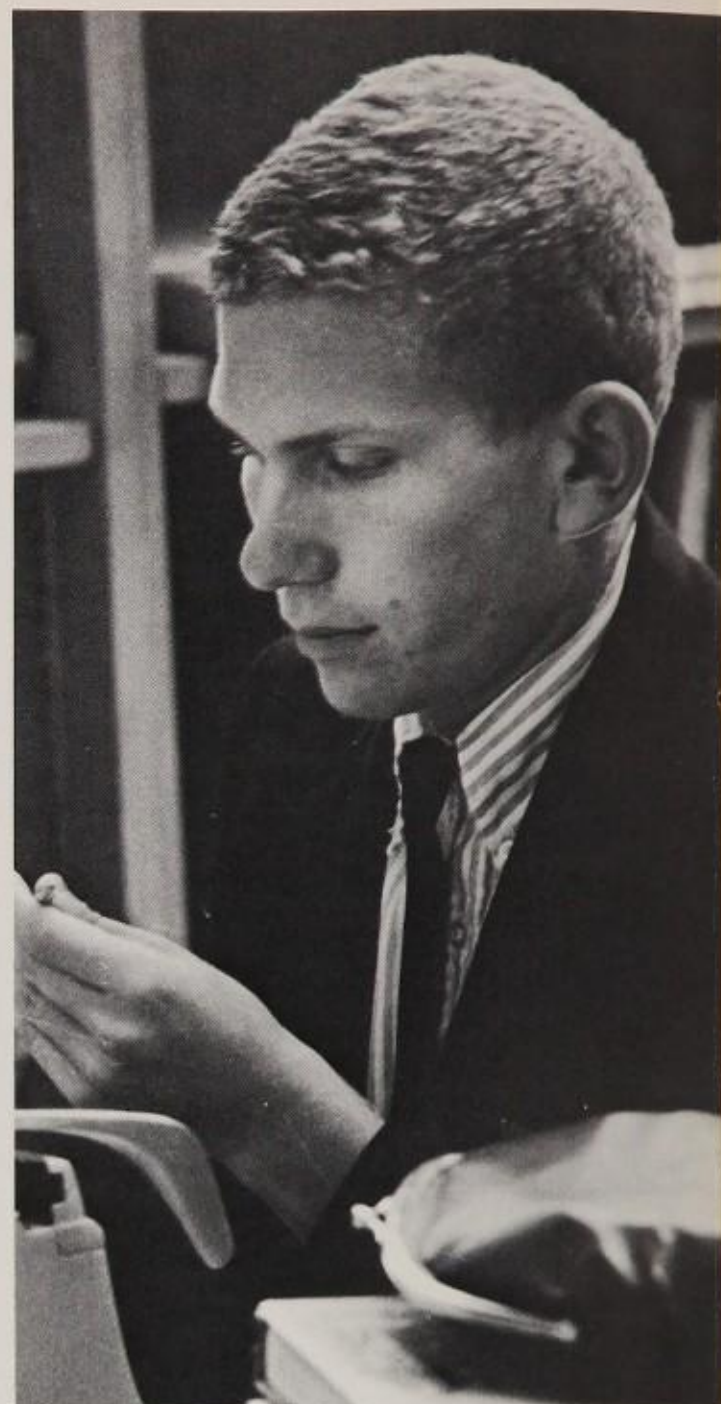

SENIORS

Roz Ellis, secretary of the class for two years, found her experience an advantage in recording for the class.

Senior Class President Myles Abbott spent many hours pondering the problems of leading the Senior Class.

Bruce Andersen, serving as vice president, worked with other officers on plans starting with Stunt Night and ending with commencement.

Treasurer Karen Batchellor advised seniors of profits made in projects designed to earn funds for a gift to the school.

PHS' Fifth Graduating Class Last to Go Straight Through

This year at PHS, it was possible for enthusiastic seniors to engage in far more activities than in previous years. More than ever, seniors supported after-school dances and sock hops. The first free patio spirit dance was presented under the direction of President Myles Abbott. Beat tags were part of the spirited class' daily attire. The Senior Board was elected in September, and aided seniors in buying graduation invitations and caps and gowns. Dress-up day was one of the few days when seniors were distinguishable from other students. The seniors presented an unsurpassed Stunt Night which was noted for its uniqueness and its controversy. Senior placement tests were administered and anxious seniors began to apply for acceptance to colleges from U of Hawaii to Miami. At an assembly, Seniors were tapped for National Honor Society . . . amid confusion. With the efforts of the Class of '65, Homecoming was one of the highlights of the school year. Seniors won first place for their float and third place for an original skit. Saddle oxfords, better known as rah-rahs, were one of the fads started by certain unconventional seniors. Senior Night during the basketball season was well supported. Macbeth and Hamlet were studied intensively as were the United States government, Economics, and Communism. The Senior Class Play offered its cast an opportunity to display their dramatic talents. Bringing the year's activities to an end were college acceptance, job placement, the Prom, and Graduation exercises which climaxed a successful senior year for the Class of '65.

Hall of Fame for 1965 Saluted Palmetto's Outstanding Seniors

The Hall of Fame for 1965 saluted fifteen of the most outstanding students at Palmetto. Nominated by the department heads and voted on by the rest of the faculty these students represented all phases of school life. Leadership, scholarship, and personality, were only a few of the qualities which the students possessed. Each one contributed in his own way to the success of the school year. They were also chosen for the service they have rendered to the school in previous years.

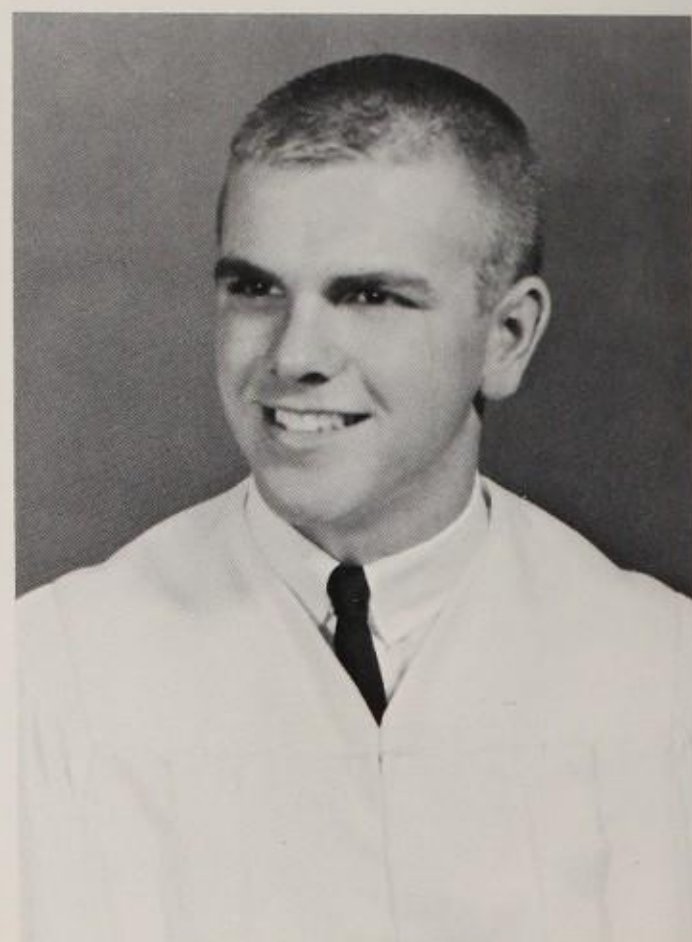

Quill and Scroll, the Journalism Honor Society, instituted a new tradition this year. A framed copy of the pictures of the Hall of Fame honorees was contributed for display in the trophy case. The club felt this would be a good way to recognize these students.

Twenty-four Senior Favorites Chosen from the Class of '65

Twenty-four members of the class of '65 were chosen at large to comprise this year's Senior Favorites. The elections were sponsored by the Palm Echo staff whose responsibility it was to print and count the many ballots.

Again Senior Favorites replaced previous Senior Superlatives, serving as a more satisfactory means of recognition. Students were chosen by the Senior class on the basis of their outstanding achievements and service to Palmetto.

Senior Favorites included students active in all phases of school life. The seniors showed their versatility by selecting students from student government, the arts, athletics and the math and science departments.

Miami Herald's Silver Knights Chosen from Stiff Competition

Palmetto's twelve Silver Knight nominees were chosen in January of 1965 to represent the most outstanding students the school had to offer in each category of achievement. In addition to excellence in a particular field, each nominee had served the community and was considered well-rounded in other endeavors as well. Mrs. Shirley Newman was chairman of the committee of department heads organized to select candidates.

According to the Miami Herald, leadership and character were used to determine the choices for Silver Knight. In leadership, judges sought students willing to take responsibility. The nominees assembled at Dade County Auditorium on May 13, when winners were announced and presentation of trophies made.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Dennis Boothe, junior class veep, tried to communicate his spirit and industriousness to the rest of the Class of '66.

Junior Class President Don Hagan leads board meeting discussion on class projects for the year. Don's main project was selling magazines.

Diane Taylor, secretary of the junior class, recorded and filed for posterity the history of, as Diane says, "the class that really clicks, the senior class of '66."

Junior Class Treasurer Martine Newcomer handled over $8000 during the year. The money was from magazine sale and was used for the Prom.

Sixty-Six, Class That's True, Fighting Panthers White and Blue

T.V. history, new phases of team teaching, Huckleberry Finn, My Antonia, and chemistry were an important part of every junior's life. The Class of '66 gained momentum this year and became a larger, more important part of Palmetto. Sponsoring sock hops, the Come September Dance, and the Prom were just a few of the responsibilities juniors took in their stride. This year's officers, Don Hagen, president; Dennis Boothe, vice president; Diane Taylor, secretary; and Martine Newcomer, treasurer; lead the class through a most memorable year.

The annual magazine drive was another hurdle to be crossed and the Juniors showed their spirit in raising money for the Prom. Homecoming included a raid can float, a second place skit, the long anticipated dance, and the voting on Homecoming court. June McElmoyle, Sue O'Connor, and Karn Ostlund were chosen to represent the Class of '66. Honor societies tapped, the long waited class rings arrived and juniors achieved the honored prestige of fighting for space in the parking lot.

Elections for the senior class officers and student council officers was conducted at the end of school. With their new leaders the juniors prepared to take over the leadership of Palmetto as the sixth graduating class of Palmetto Senior High School. The class sponsors, Mr. Errol Seegars, Mrs. Roxanne Cambell, Mr. Cliff Kirchmer, Mr. Charles Dziuban and Mr. James Woods helped in every way possible.

Jane Crawford, exhausted from last minute studying for semester exams, tries desperately to escape from the front gates of PHS.

Diane Smith and Bruce Tall examined a Palmetto ring and found their sizes.

Senior Class of '67 Comprised Largest Group In PHS History

The sophomores, who composed the largest class at Palmetto, began an enthusiastic year with the election of class officers. They then had another election to choose class sponsors. The class sponsors who proved to be very helpful during the year were: Mrs. Marlene Lindquist, Mrs. Anabel Withers and Mr. Keith Zeman. The class board, with representatives from every sophomore homeroom, was also organized and put into action.

TV Biology, Home Economics, Drivers' Education and TV English were all a major part of each sophomores' life. After school activities were supported with spirit by members of the Class of '67. They found enjoyment and a feeling of accomplishment by serving both the school and the community.

Homecoming at Palmetto was brightened by the sophomore class who worked patiently and successfully to present an attractive float. The classes' skit was enjoyed by an attentive audience. Representing the sophomores with charm and poise in the Homecoming Court were Pat MacLaughlin and Susie Hill.

Throughout the year, sophomores took part in a variety of JV sports. Even if not actively engaged in the game, sophomores could always be found cheering their boys on at the sidelines. It may be certain that this school year will be remembered as a great one for the Class of '67.

We salute you...GRADUATES of '65

Your Florida high school education has been exciting...filled with good times to remember, challenging academics and excellent facilities.

Your Florida college education can be just as exciting, and far more rewarding...especially in the rapidly growing, opportunity-filled Florida into which you will graduate.

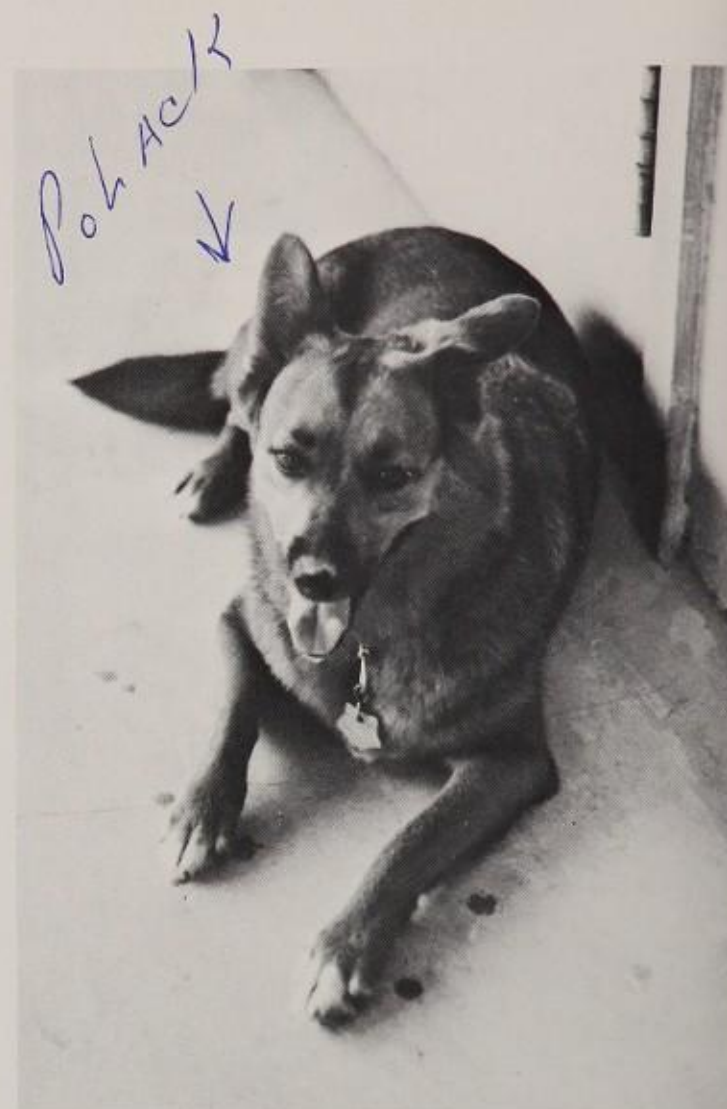

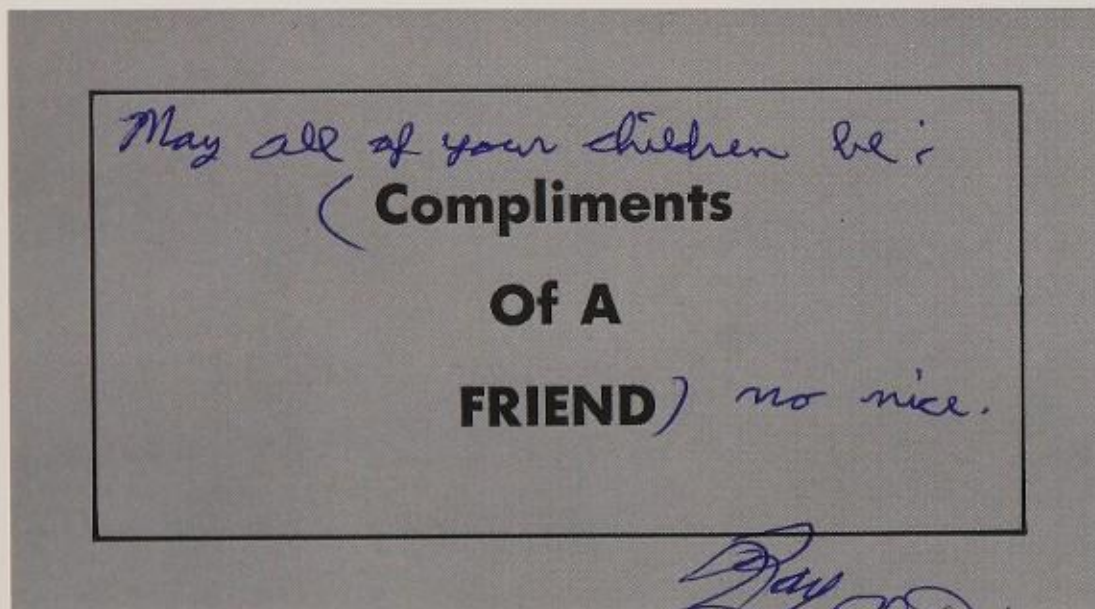

An investment in knowledge pays the best dividends. Going to college "in-state" is extra easy and less costly...and Florida has more than 50 outstanding junior colleges and four-year universities conveniently situated.

Good luck...best wishes...and more power to you!

A Yearbook Is . . .

A yearbook is many things. To the student it is a means of remembering one year in twelve. To the faculty, it serves as a record of classes taught, dances chaperoned, those eager to learn and those not so eager.

In the wake of crumpled layout sheets, good pictures, bad pictures, we became reacquainted with our teachers. They had become accustomed to our refrain, "May I please be excused from class. There's a yearbook crisis." To them and to the parents who put up with 1:30 a.m. sessions and 2:00 a.m. "I'm late" phone calls, we extend our thanks. And we can't forget the friendly man at Burger King who always smiled when we came in three times a week and ordered 10 hot dogs, five whoppers, 13 cokes, two oranges and a fish sandwich.

We especially want to thank Mr. Harrell Brooks, our publishing company representative. His instruction and seemingly never ending patience was a valuable assist in producing the yearbook. It was a pleasure working with Foote and Davies Publishing Company.

The yearbook was not formally dedicated this year but the staff would like to dedicate the 1965 Palm Echo to Mrs. Mary Griffith, adviser. It was for Griff that the staff worked so diligently all year. Thank you.

The last deadline is over, the lights in room 108 are shut off to await another year, another staff. Somehow, out of the confusion, came a record of the year, the 1965 Palm Echo.

Ken,
I wish you
luck and happiness
through out the years.
If you ever have a pet,
let it be a mouse.

Love,
